

SULZER PLANS FULL STATEMENT

IF ADVISORS OBJECT TO TELL-ING ON STAND WILL PUBLISH FACTS.

TO AVOID CROSS EXAMINATION

Council for Board of Assembly Anxious for New Evidence—Friction
in Governor's Camp.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 4.—Governor Sulzer was said to have perfected a plan for getting his whole story before the public and at the same time escaping cross-examination on more than part of it.

It was generally reported that if his attorneys continued to insist on his curtailing his sworn testimony as they are said to be doing, he will obey their demands, but will issue a statement to the newspapers containing that part of his narrative barred by his legal advisers. He will give out the statement on taking the witness stand, it is reported.

Should he do this, he would get his whole story to the people, which he has always insisted he would accomplish in some manner. One thing that he has told many callers and maintained in talking with his counsel, is that the people are entitled to know everything that he does about the inner workings of political organizations in the state, but his attorneys have pointed out repeatedly that if he lets his anxiety for divulging information carry him too far, he will open the way for the severest cross-examination from counsel for the board of managers. So, if the governor's counselors have their way, his sworn testimony probably will be much less sensational than the statement he is now said to be planning.

The asserted eagerness of the attorneys for the board of managers to have the governor take the stand has made his attorneys somewhat shy about his "telling everything." Counsel for the board make no secret of their hopes that the testimony of Sulzer will open the way for the introduction of much new evidence, which they cannot introduce if he fails to testify or only denies briefly stories told to witnesses for the managers last week. The governor's eagerness to make public what his statement is expected to contain if it is issued, has caused endless argument between him and his counsel. More than two weeks ago, it is said, he planned an alleged expense of about $500 words and was ready to give it to the newspapers
when his counsel checked him.

Detectives Expect to Get Stallings Slayer in a Week

Port Worth, Oct. 4.—County detectives are confident the murderer of C.
M. Stallings, former barn foreman for the Union Transfer company, whose body was found on the Greenville road near Dallas, a week ago, will be found within a week. Officers now are on the trail of a suspect.

It is said this man formerly lived in Fort Worth, but the authorities refuse to reveal his identity. It is said he has moved and probably now is living in Dallas.

"I believe we now are working on a clue which will bring results in a few days," said one of the detectives. "We have been getting closer to the mur-derer for a week."

Dallas detectives, it is said, have given up hope of solving the mystery.

Mistreats His Baby Barely Escapes Mob

Shreveport, La., Oct. 4.—Because he was charged by his wife with brutally whipping his 8-month-old baby for crying, Hubbard Lee, a white cotton picker, was taken from an officer near Myrtle by a crowd of men who started to lynch him, but changed their minds and whipped him instead. He was then warned to leave the community.
Lee made his way to Rodessa, this parish, where he was arrested. A deputy sheriff placed him on a train and brought him to Shreveport, but the officer had to lock his prisoner up in the lavatory and defy crowds who boarded the train and searched for Lee at both Vivian and Myrtle. Lee is in jail on a charge of assault and battery upon his baby, who is under the care of a physician.

Steamer Spokane Floats

Seattle, Oct. 4.—The steamship Spokan, which was wrecked on the coast of Vancouver Island last night, will arrive here early tomorrow. She is steaming slowly. Her double bottom saved the vessel.

Battle at Santa Rosalia Desperate; Rebels Routed

El Paso, Oct. 4.—Meager details of the battle of Santa Rosalia, Chihuahua, in which General Francisco Castoro and his 4,700 federal troops succeeded in defeating and routing Francisco Villa and his 4,000 combined rebel forces, tend to show that the battle was a desperate one.

General Salazar of the rebel forces, in private dispatches to friends in Juarez, places his estimate of the total number of dead at 700. The casualties were mostly on the rebel side.

EPISCOPAL RULES MAY BE CHANGED

TRIENNIAL MEETING OPENS IN NEW YORK OCT. 8 AND LASTS
THREE WEEKS.

DIVORCE IS TO COME UP

Remarriage of Innocent Party to Divorce Is Favored—High and Low Divisions May Clash.

New York, Oct. 4.—The next three weeks will witness the making of ecclesiastical history here of the triennial general Episcopal church. Beginning Wednesday, October 8, 116 bishops, 295 clerical and 205 lay delegates will meet at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine to hold daily sessions until October 24. The bishops will constitute the house of bishops and the 616 clergymen and laymen will sit in the house of deputies. These two bodies will discuss amendments to the church constitution and their debates will bring to a head questions that have been agitating the church for many years.

No provision has been made for presenting to the convention the question of changing the corporate name of the denomination.

Churchmen and laymen of high scholarly tendencies have contended that the present name, "The Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States of America and its tributaries beyond the sea," is cumbersome and not properly descriptive. They have suggested instead the name "American Catholic Church."

Delegates already here expressed the opinion, however, that the elections of delegates by the various dioceses showed that the low church party was in the majority and that those who favored another name did not wish to risk defeat at this convention.

The question of remarriage of divorced persons may be forced upon the convention by individual delegates, but no provision has been made for its formal presentation. For several years a sentiment has existed in favor of changing the constitution so that Episcopal clergymen may be permitted to perform the marriage ceremony for the innocent party to a divorce. At present the church does not sanction the remarriage of divorced persons.

The relative strength of the high and low church sentiment may be tested on the opening day, when the house of deputies elects its presiding officer. The two leading candidates are the Rev. Wm. F. Manning, D. D., of Trinity Church, New York, and the Rev. Alexander Mann, D. D., of Trinity Church, Boston.

Dr. Manning is one of the high church leaders. Dr. Mann is well known for his low church tendencies.

President to Buy Wheel for Boy His Automobile Strikes

Washington, Oct. 4.—While President Wilson was motoring through the southeastern section of the city tonight, returning to the white house
from a long ride through Maryland, his automobile struck Robert Crawford, a 15-year-old messenger boy, slightly bruising him about the knees.
Young Crawford was taken to a hospital at once by Dr. Cary T. Grayson, the president's physician, who was along. An examination showed that no bones were broken and that his injuries were not at all serious. The boy was riding a bicycle and trying to dodge stones being hurled at him
by another youngster when he suddenly swerved directly in front of the president's car as it rounded a corner.
Chauffeur Francis Robinson quickly applied the emergency brake, stopping the car with a jerk before the wheels could pass over the boy.

The president, who was riding in the front seat with the chauffeur, was at the boy's side in an instant, lifting him from beneath the hood while the secret service men disentangled
the demolished bicycle from under the automobile. Crawford's principal solicitor was his wheel.

"My wheel, my wheel," he whimpered. "I'll have to carry the messages now."
The president promptly assured him that he would buy him a "nice new wheel" and directed Dr. Grayson to attend him constantly. The boy was taken in the secret service automobile to a hospital at which his mother is employed.

Electric Car Overturns

Chicopee, Mass., Oct. 4.—One man was killed, another probably fatally hurt and fifteen others were injured, two seriously, when an electric car of the Holyoke Street Railway company overturned in Aldenville tonight. The crew of the car said the brakes failed to work coming down a steep hill.

Postpone Dike Destruction

Panama, Oct. 4.—The blowing up of the Gamboa dike has been officially fixed at 9 o'clock in the morning of October 10.

TO BE CONSTITUTIONAL PRESIDENT OF CHINA

Yuan Shih-kai will be elected constitutional President of the Republic of China, and will be formally inaugurated on October 10, the anniversary of the outbreak of the revolution at Wuchang, if an agreement reached between the Provisional President and the leaders of the Parliament is not broken in the meantime.

IS CHARGED WITH CONTEMPT FT. WORTH JEWELRY THEFT

Oklahoma Court of Appeals Criticizes Governor's Assault on Court's Integrity.

Oklahoma City, Oct. 4.—In an opinion
by the criminal court of appeals, Saturday, Governor Lee Cruce is virtually charged with contempt for what the court calls "unfounded and infamous assault" upon the integrity of the courts, and its decision in the George Crump case, which was given in a letter explaining his non-attendance at the conference of governors
at Colorado Springs last summer.

In his letter to the governors Governor Cruce is quoted as saying that the criminal court had joined hands with the legislature in a "policy regarding capital punishment and characterizes his course of action
as arrogating to himself the right to nullify the law prescribing the death penalty for murder at the discretion
of the jury."

The opinion attacks the governor's policy regarding capital punishment and characterizes his course of action
as arrogating to himself the right to
nullify the law prescribing the death
penalty for murder at the discretion
of the jury.

ALL DAY BATTLE AT SINALOA

Rebel Reports State Insurgents Win Advantage—2,000 Constitutionalists Take Part.

Douglas, Ariz., Oct. 4.—Constitutionalists and federalists clashed in an all-day battle at the city of Sinaloa today,
according to tonight's rebel advices, which asserted the insurgents had the advantage, although the fighting still was in progress.

The number of federalists engaged in the battle was not stated, but the constitutionalist troops were said to total 2,000. They were commanded by Gen.
Turbe.

The federal gunboats stationed in Guaymas harbor are said to have been ordered south with troops to reinforce the Sinaloa garrison.
American Consul Simplich arrived here from Cumasa, Sonora, having accused the release of James Bennett and his son, who were held at Santiago on charges of having fomented political disorders.

Woman Cop Arrests Man at Fort Worth

Fort Worth, Oct. 4.—Miss Zoe Mestraleit, humane society officer, arrested a man. He offered no resistance but gallantly accompanied her to Central police station.

The arrest was made in front of 211
Jones street. A female was left tied with a rope to a telegraph pole. In an effort to get in a comfortable position
the mule broke the shaft of the vehicle to which he was hitched and this inflicted a wound in his side. Officer Mestrallet telephoned the pound officer to get the mule and waited for the owner.

When he arrived she took him to the police station, after a considerable walk in which he failed to locate the wagon yard at which he claimed he had left the mule. Persons in the neighborhood told Officer Mestrallet that the mule had been left hitched to the pole for three or four hours. He was dismissed without a charge being filed against him. He claimed the mule had been there but a short time and had first been put in a wagon yard when he came to town in the morning.

UNDERWOOD WILL RUN FOR SENATE

ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY TO suc-CEED LATE JOSEPH F.
JOHNSTON.

TARIFF WAS GREAT AMBITION

Says Enactment of Bill Completes His Work in House—Served Ten Terms.

Washington, Oct. 4.—Representative Oscar W. Underwood, majority leader in the house, issued a formal statement late today announcing his candidacy for the United States senate from Alabama to succeed the late Joseph F. Johnston.

Representative Underwood's statement follows:
"For the best part of ten terms I have served the people of the ninth Alabama district in the congress of the United States. No man has ever been treated better by a constituency than I have been and in return I have tried to serve them faithfully and loyally. Now that I have determined not again to be a candidate for congress from the ninth district, I wish to express to my friends and constituents my sincere appreciation of their friendship and loyal support of my political fortunes in the past twenty years.

"With the enactment of the tariff bill I have completed the work in the house that has been my ambition to accomplish.

"Before retiring from public life I should like to have the honor of representing the people of the state of Alabama in the senate of the United States and have, therefore, concluded to announce myself as candidate for the senate in the democratic primary election.

"If elected, I will devote my entire time and attention to the duties of the office and endeavor to faithfully and loyally serve the people of Alabama."

Mr. Underwood will enter the democratic primary in Alabama next spring with several other prominent Alabama democrats, including Representatives Henry D. Clayton and Richard Pearson Hobson. It is understood that Representative James Thomas Helfin may be a candidate.
Representative Clayton was appointed by Governor O'Neal to fill out Senator Johnston's unexpired term, but his credentials never have been passed on by the senate. The democratic leaders in the senate are almost unanimous in the opinion that Governor O'Neal has no authority to make the appointment in the absence of action by the legislature. The credentials committee held a meeting late today to consider the matter, but took no action.

KATY HOSPITAL NOT CHARITY

Attorney General Holds Proposed Charter Not Legal—Dues Collected Make It Insurance.

Austin, Tex., Oct. 4.—After an investigation of the proposed charter of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Employees' Hospital association, the attorney general today advised the secretary of state that the charter could not be filed as a charitable and benevolent association, but only as an insurance company. This decision was rendered because of the fact that in consideration of certain monthly dues to be collected from its members it proposed to guarantee certain hospital treatment and sick benefits.

VICE CRUSADE AT DALLAS

County Attorney McCutcheon Declares
City Has No Right to Set Aside Reservation.

Dallas, Oct. 4.—In a formal statement issued at noon today County Attorney Currie McCutcheon declared that the city of Dallas has no right to set aside any district of the city to be known as a reservation for the fallen women and says that he will do his duty and oppose the present reservation. While the statement does not say so, in an interview Mr. McCutcheon stated that he would begin his campaign Monday morning. In the statement issued the county attorney says that the establishment of the reservation by the city of Dallas was in violation of section 28, article 1, of the present constitution, and declares that the keepers of bawdy houses, as well as the owners, lessees and agents of the property, are violators of the state law and subject to prosecution.
He says that such owners, keepers, agents and lessees are subject to a fine of $200 and twenty days' confinement in the county jail for each and every day that premises are so used.

Large Pecan Crop

San Angelo, Oct. 4.—This year's pecan crop in this section promises to be the largest ever harvested here for several seasons past. Estimates place this year's production at more than thirty cars.

St. Paul Station Burns

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 4.—Fire early today destroyed the union station, one of St. Paul's landmarks, and for a time threatened a serious conflagration in the wholesale district. The loss is estimated at $250,000.

Colquitt Sails for New Orleans

Colon, Oct. 4.—Governor O. B. Colquitt of Texas and party, who had the last week, sailed for New Orleans

today on the steamer Paris Mina.

Battleship Makes Record

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 4.—The battleship Arkansas, which arrived in Hampton Roads today from New York, made a new record for speed on her trip down the coast. For four hours the Arkansas averaged 21.49 knots an hour. Her contract speed is only 20.5 knots.

The big ship, which celebrated her first birthday a few weeks ago, averaged 19 knots for 29 hours.

The Arkansas is the flagship of the first division of the Atlantic fleet,

TEXAS MAYORS WILL ORGANIZE

WITH CITY ATTORNEY ARE TO ASSEMBLE AT AUSTIN
NOVEMBER 4.

DISCUSS NEW HOME RULE LAW

Will Have Copy of Measure Studied by Some City Attorney for Interpretation.

Austin, Tex., Oct. 4.—Every mayor of Texas having a population 5,000 or more and the city attorneys of each are to be invited to assemble in convention at Austin November 4.
Mayor Woodbridge today started to send out the invitations. The purpose is to organize permanently for annual conventions at which time advanced, modern methods of municipal government will be discussed.

A clear and concise interpretation of the new home rule bill, passed by the legislature last July 1 last, will be the principal subject for discussion at the convention November 4. The plan of Mayor Woodbridge is to have the subject placed in the hands of one of the city attorneys of one of the largest cities, and that he be called upon to make a complete interpretation of all of the provisions of the measure.

The first business to be conducted will be organization, the adoption of a constitution and by-laws and the election of permanent officers for the coming year.

Mayor Woodbridge has the support and co-operation of the municipal branch of the school of government of the University of Texas, of which Herman G. Jones is at the head. The library at the university will be at the disposal of those who attend the convention during this and other years.

Woodbridge Is Enthusiastic

In speaking of the matter today, Mayor Woodbridge said: "I have long been acquainted with the need of a state organization of the mayors of Texas cities and feel certain that much good will be derived in the joint discussions of subjects pertaining to municipalities as affecting Texas cities."

"The organizing at this time is particularly important because of the passing of the new home rule bill by the legislature, which makes many changes in the conducting of city affairs and gives the city authorities new duties and added power. The provisions of the new measure doubtless are rather vague in the minds of many and it seems important that some one who has devoted much time in studying all the provisions should be called upon to make an address in which he will be given an opportunity to explain all of the provisions and their application, results and benefits."

That the majority of the mayors invited to attend the Austin convention will be present seems probable and doubtless all will appreciate the opportunity the permanent organization would offer.

HILLSBORO FAIR IS DELAYED

Heavy Rains Cause Postponement
From October 7-10 to No-

railroad and telegraph lines and has caused the postponement of the first Hill county fair from Oct. 7 to 10 to Nov. 4 to 7.

Ten thousand Woodmen of the World had been expected here Friday with twenty companies of the uniform rank to participate in the ceremonies incident to the State Wood-men's day at the fair.

HEAVY DAMAGE DONE BY RAIN

WASHOUTS ON MANY RAILROADS
IN TEXAS ARE RE-PORTED.

STREETS PARTLY INUNDATED

Brazos Higher Than in Many Months and Water Still Rising—Road-beds Hard Hit.

Continued rains in the territory surrounding Waco and heavy rains inside the city and to the south have to a certain extent crippled all means of transportation. Railroads south of this city are all more or less affected by the daily downpours, and trains are arriving late on all roads from that direction.

Reports of washouts of small bridges on many roads have been made, and soft track is general to the south. The rain has also placed unpaved streets and country roads leading into Waco in bad condition. Few reports of serious washouts over the county have been made, but the report that comes to County Superintendent of Roads R. J. Windrow is that almost all of the roads will require regrading and considerable work to again place them in passable condition.

Extent of Damage Unknown

Inside the city of Waco the damage to streets at this time cannot be estimated in dollars and cents. All unpaved streets have been badly washed and gravel streets are in almost as bad condition. The total rainfall in Waco for twenty-four hours ended at 9 o'clock last night was 1.23 inches.

Following a daily rain of more or less extent for the past few days, a heavy downpour fell in Waco shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday. The rain lasted for thirty-five minutes, and during that time streets and gutters and residence lots were overflowed.
Austin and other downtown streets were above ankle deep in places. Especially was the drainage bad at Sixth and Austin and at Seventh and the same street. Also on Washington street and in the alley between Washington and Austin, and along the Cotton street railway line and depot
the water backed up for some distance.

Trains Behind Time

At the railroad offices the statement is made that trains are compelled to maintain a slow schedule because of softened tracks.

The Brazos river is higher than it has been in some time and is still climbing. No high water mark is expected.

So far the rain has done little if any damage to the city waterworks system.

The street system has suffered the greatest, and the rain will cause some extra work to the sanitary department. Preparation has been made to have an extra force of street men out repairing holes and opening drainage just as soon as the work can be properly done.

Back Yards Flooded

Besides damage done to the streets, in some of the low-lying sections of the city, back yards of residence lots are flooded. Instances were reported yesterday where the yards of some were so overflowed with water that it was difficult for people to get into their homes.

In some parts of the city, where drainage in streets is bad, complaints are general because of backed-up water.

The street car system so far has been affected but little, although in some sections the water ran for some time over the tracks.

To Rush Repair Work

Street Commissioner Foster and City Engineer George Byars were in consultation yesterday as to a plan of action when the rain stops for sufficient length of time to permit them to work. Mr. Foster said the damage was great to many streets, and that he would be prepared to put an extra force of men to work on repairing them.

In the sanitary department preparations are also being made to begin a general cleaning up of the debris and other matter which the rain has washed into alleys, streets and gutters.

General rains fell over Texas Friday night and early yesterday except in the north and eastern portions of the state.

Precipitation of three inches was reported at Cleburne. Haskell had 2.77 inches. Quanah, San Marcos, 2.9
of an inch and several other points almost as much. In Fort Worth the precipitation for the twenty-four hours preceding yesterday at 7 a. m.
was .31 of an inch.

Reports of delayed train service resulting from the heavy rains were received from Fort Worth yesterday.
An Orient railway bridge near San Angelo was washed out and several others along the line damaged.

The Victoria branch of the Southern Pacific from San Antonio to Stockdale is impassable. Similar conditions prevail on the Mexican National between Laredo and Corpus Christi. Owing to damage to its roadbed between Taylor and San Antonio,

"WITHIN FIFTEEN DAYS FROM THE DATE HEREOF I PROMISE TO deliver complete abstract of title showing good title in me for the land hereinabove described," did your contract to purchase real estate ever contain words similar to the above? If so, what did they mean? Conceding that they meant a merchantable title, we will ask what is a merchantable title, and isn't it a fact that what one attorney would find to be a merchantable title another would object to—it's the difference of opinions that makes lawsuits.

Doesn't it behoove you to demand a title which is acceptable by everyone, a title which you can deliver to your purchaser just like you were swapping horses, deliver the title guaranty policy, which is an absolute guarantee that the title is good; not that we are always right, but when we say the title is good, that word is supported by the assets of the largest Texas Company writing Title Guaranty Insurance.

Rice Growers Uneasy.

Heavy rains last night at Houston continued to hamper railroad service and to cause uneasiness among cotton and rice growers. Seymour has had six inches of rain within the last few days. In South Texas, flood conditions are rapidly adjusting themselves. The San Antonio, Nueces and San Gabriel rivers were subsiding yesterday.

The Trinity at Fort Worth was slowly falling yesterday, according to reports from the Fort Worth Power and Light company's dam. The water was about five inches above the dam. No reports of any rise further up the river have been received here.

The precipitation during the last twenty-four hours was generally deficient over the cotton belt. The rains were confined principally to this state and to Arkansas and Oklahoma.

Temperatures Above Normal.
Temperatures are above normal today in many parts of Texas, although nearly normal in the northeastern districts. Rainy conditions prevailed yesterday over the Rockies and the lower Missouri river valley region.

Creeks Flow as Torrents.
As a result of the heavy precipitation in this vicinity yesterday afternoon, the creeks are full from bank to bank. Barron's branch and Waco creek, where they run through the city, were converted into torrents, and with little more would have overspread their bordering territory.

The heavy rain caused a slight interference with the power plant of the Texas Power and Light company and the rail service was interrupted from 4 p. m. till 4:08 p. m.

Rains Continue Along Gulf.

Houston, Oct. 4.—Showers continued to fall during the night throughout the coast section, intensifying the conditions in streets, fields and lowlands and assuring a continuance of disordered railway service. To the eastward from here there is some improvement with smaller streams slowly subsiding and the larger ones rising. To the west and southwest floods continue to work havoc.

Early this morning seventy-five people continued mated two miles south of Gonzales, on Santa Anna mound, but expectations were they would be rescued during the day.

POISON PROBABLE CAUSE

Father and Step-mother Assist in Inquiry—Stomachs Brought to Bay for Analysis.

Over to the westward, in the hills of Bosque, the strange double tragedy, that occurred in the farmhouse where J. W. Etheridge, his three children and his second wife lived peacefully and happily until last Thursday, has thrown the hill folk into a fever of excitement.

The county authorities and the physicians who were called in by the grief-stricken father and stepmother are apparently as much mystified by the sudden and shocking death of the two younger sons of Mr. Etheridge and the singular illness of the oldest of the children as the neighbors of the stricken family.

Doctors Are Baffled.

Just how the two boys, aged 5 and 9 years, met their death is a mystery that has to this time baffled the doctors, the police and the people of the hills. The case is the strangest that has ever come under the observation of the Bosque county authorities.

Shortly after the noon hour last Thursday the Etheridge family sat down to the mid-day meal. The three children were then all in their usual good health; they ate with the keen appetites of healthy youngsters. The meal was scarcely over when the 5-year-old boy complained of pains in his stomach. A few minutes later he was violently ill. His mother, the stepmother of the sick child, was frantically endeavoring to relieve the little one's suffering with such simple remedies as she could find in the house, the 9-year-old boy was seized with a like sickness.

All Affected Same Way.
Almost at the same time the oldest of the boys began to show distress. The symptoms in all of the three cases were the same.

Mrs. Etheridge, frightened and horrified, called upon all the neighbors she could reach, while Mr. Etheridge summoned Dr. Compton, a county practitioner. When the physician reached the Etheridge home he saw at a glance that two of the children were past relief. He administered such remedies as the cases seemed to demand and succeeded in putting the oldest boy on the road to recovery. The two smaller children, however, succumbed to their strange ailment.

Dr. McDonald Consulted.

Following the usual inquiry into death from unknown causes by the county authorities and the physician, Dr. McDonald was summoned from Meridian, eighteen miles distant. The physicians held a consultation and it was decided to probe deeper for the cause of the fatal illness of the two boys. The stomach and liver of each was removed and Dr. McDonald was commissioned to bring the organs to the chemical laboratory of Baylor university. The physician, Dr. McDonald, was of the opinion that the boys had in some manner taken poison and the symptoms attending the three cases indicated that all were poisoned at the same time.

The Theory Advanced.
Acting upon the theory that the three children had found a package or vial of some noxious drug or chemical in the house and had innocently sampled their find, a search was instituted. Mrs. Etheridge stated that she knew of nothing poisonous on the premises. While making the search, the physician found a package of gray powder, which was turned over to the searchers. This package Mrs. Etheridge thought contained medicinal salts.

Strychnine Is Disclosed.
When the stomachs and livers of the two dead boys were delivered to Prof. S. R. Spencer, analytical chemist, at Albany, Oct. 4.—It has been raining for the last two days here. The precipitation is one and a half inches. The crops are fine on small grain and grass. Much small grain is being sown.

GARDNER BOLTS COMMITTEE.
Massachusetts Congressman Repudiates Platform Selected.

Boston, Oct. 4.—Congressman Augustus P. Gardner, who had before repudiated the state committee, declared at the end of a sharp fight in the Republican state convention today that he would run on a platform of his own. He would fulfill, he said, his promise to the 40,000 people who chose him at the primaries, despite his obligation to the party as represented by the majority of the delegates present.

This new turn in the political situation followed the defeat of the candidate in four successive attempts to be elected. Gardner arrived here today, after the resolutions so as to make the platform square with his assertions on the stump.

When the fight was ended Mr. Gardner figuratively tore up his prepared speech of acceptance and substituted a three-minute talk on "progressive republicanism." He explained that as the four cardinal points in his address rejected, his set speech was useless.

Wait Saves $600.
Bay City, Mich., Oct. 4.—The steamer Ogema, from Canada with a cargo of lumber, arrived here today after remaining at anchor for two days in Saginaw bay, waiting for the new tariff law to go into effect. Owners of the steamer and cargo estimated that the move saved $600.

Captain Pierce, master of the vessel, said thousands of dollars' worth of lumber have accumulated in Canadian ports which soon will find markets in the United States.

Personal.
Mrs. Mamie Livingston (nee Simms) of Dallas returned to her home yesterday morning, after a pleasant visit to her sister, Mrs. W. J. Paisley, at 604 North Eleventh street.

Mrs. Wm. Auton of Baton Rouge, La., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paisley, on North Eleventh street.

E. H. Mitchner of Bosqueville, a prominent citizen of the county, was in the city yesterday.

L. Cepler of China Springs was in the city yesterday on business.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the elimination tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead, your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night, if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure. A delightful, delicious, lithia-water beverage and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

Baylor university, last Friday the physician who brought the organs here, Dr. McDonald, also handed in the powder for analysis. Chemist Spencer applied the customary tests and ascertained that the powder was largely strychnine and, if taken in sufficient quantity, deadly. The grief and distress of the stepmother of the boys was so great that Dr. McDonald did not sign the report of the result of the chemical analysis of the powder when he returned to Bosque.

Organs to Be Boiled.
Prof. Spencer has not yet begun the chemical analysis of the stomachs and livers of the two Etheridge boys. He will probably be unable to determine the character of the poison that killed the boys, if poison is disclosed, for several days. Chemical analysis of organs taken from the human body is a slow and tedious process, but the process has been perfected to such an extent that the test is regarded by the medical world as infallible. The organs are placed in a kettle or some similar receptacle and boiled over a slow fire for hours. The surface of the water is then carefully skimmed and the acid is given the tests that are known to science.

Meridian Hears of Case.
News of the double tragedy in the Etheridge home reached Meridian yesterday and caused almost a pronounced sensation as the mysterious affair has occasioned in the quiet community where the relatives and friends of the Etheridge reside. The physician, Dr. McDonald, was of the opinion that the boys had in some manner taken poison and the symptoms attending the three cases indicated that all were poisoned at the same time.

Dr. McDonald Reticent.
Discussing the case over long distance phone with a reporter for the Morning News last night, Dr. McDonald said: "I do not feel at liberty to discuss my connection with the case. I have nothing to say for publication." Beyond admitting that he had delivered the organs to Prof. Spencer for chemical analysis as to their contents, he declined to talk.

From other sources it was learned that arsenical poisoning is believed to have caused the death of the two boys and the illness of the surviving child. Dr. McDonald when asked the oldest boy would recover, replied that he was confident that the boy would be all right in time.

Symptoms Described.
The symptoms of arsenical poisoning are given in the Digestary of the United States of America, a recognized authority, as follows:

"Arsenic trioxide, in an overdose, whether internally or externally, acts with great energy, and generally destroys life in a short time. The symptoms produced by the poison are an astringent taste; fetid state of the mouth, frequent pyrexia, continual hawking, constriction of the pharynx, and oesophagus; the sensation of the teeth being on edge, hiccough, nausea, anxiety, frequent sinkings, burning pain at the praecordia, inflammation of the lips; tongue, palate, throat, bronchi and oesophagus; irritable stomach; so as not to be able to support the blandest drink; vomiting of matters, sometimes brown, at other times bloody; diarrhoea; small, frequent and irregular pulse, but occasionally slow and unthirst; burning heat over the whole body, or a sensation of icy coldness; difficult respiration; cold sweats; change in the countenance; a livid circle around the eyelids, swelling and itching of the body; livid spots over the surface and occasionally a milky eruption; prostration of strength; loss of feeling, especially in the feet and hands; delirium, convulsions, often accompanied with insupportable pruritus; falling of the hair, detachment of the cuticle, etc."

County to Bear Cost.
Prof. Spencer will probably be ready to report the result of his analysis Wednesday or Thursday. It is expected that Dr. McDonald will return to Waco for a consultation with the chemist and to carry back the report. The expenses of the quest to determine exactly what caused the death of the boys will be borne by the county in which the double fatality occurred. Prof. Spencer has been assured.

Western Citizen—"That's all passed long ago. We're civilized now."

Stranger—"No more mob law, eh?"
Western Citizen—"No, indeed. When a fellow butchers a family now we just issue a warrant for him, arrest him if our police happen to stumble over him, put him into our comfortable cells, send him dainties and flowers, postpone the case until some of the witnesses die off, grant him new trials, and so on, until the whole business is forgotten and the governor pardons him out. Oh, we're civilized 'way up in the handle now, I tell you."

STRIKE FIRST SNAG IN TARIFF

TREASURY OFFICIALS IN DOUBT AS TO CONGRESS' MEANING IN ONE SECTION.

PRESIDENT WILL BE ASKED

Fail to Construe Discounts on Goods Shipped in American Boats.

Washington, Oct. 4.—Officials of the treasury department are at sea to know what congress actually meant by the provision of the new tariff law allowing a 5 per cent reduction of duties on goods imported in American ships, with the condition that the differential had not been constructed to abrogate or impair any existing treaty between the United States and a foreign nation. Literally interpreted, it is declared, the provision would give a 5 per cent decrease to goods in American bottoms and automatically grant the same privilege to ships of many nations whose treaties with the United States guarantee no discrimination between their vessels and those of America.

This construction would be a horizontal reduction of 5 per cent in the tariff for importation from most of the great countries of the world, and involves probably ten million in revenue for the government, creating a deficit, instead of a surplus in the treasury, as has been estimated by the tariff framers. The question undoubtedly will be referred to President Wilson and Attorney General McKennedy and ultimately will reach the United States supreme court. The senate and the treasury department are in calculation over the effect of the provision, the first snag struck in the new law.

Avoiding a literal construction, some officials contend that congress meant the reduction should be allowed only in cases where the United States did not have a treaty which would interfere.

Whatever the interpretation of the provision for nations with these guarantees of equality, it is pointed out other serious questions arise as to twenty-three nations whose treaties with this country do not guarantee against discrimination. The countries which thus will be charged the full Underwood duties in any event are Brazil, Chile, China, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, France, German empire (except several German states), Guatemala, Panama, Persia, Portugal, Russia, Salvador, Siam, Switzerland, Turkey, Uruguay and Venezuela. Also the treaty with Great Britain does not guarantee equality of treatment for vessels of her colonies, such as Canada and Australia.

Governing Import Meats.
Secretary Houston today promulgated regulations governing importation of meat and food products under the new tariff.

The regulations require foreign certifications of both ante-mortem and post-mortem inspection in the countries where the animals are slaughtered and inspected at port of entry by agents of the department of agriculture. Rigid examinations govern the imports even after entry to the United States. They are placed under the meat inspection act and thus are admitted to federally inspected establishments governed by the same inspection system that surrounds meat transported in interstate commerce.

Generally, the regulations relate only to the meat or meat food products derived from cattle, sheep, swine and goats. Products from any other animals are governed by regulations of the food and drugs act. If it is found that the inspection of meats in any foreign country is not adequate or sufficient, no meats or meat food products may be admitted to the United States from that country.

Good Roads Bonds.
Conroe, Oct. 4.—One hundred thousand dollars of the $250,000 good roads bonds recently voted here have been sold and will be used in constructing highways in road district No. 1. Work will begin within thirty days. The remaining $150,000 will be used later.

Another Beautiful Display Monday

For the especial benefit of you who were prevented by bad weather from attending our opening display of Millinery last week, we have arranged another beautiful and comprehensive exhibit of the Fall Hat Fashions. This display will take place in our elegant Millinery Salon tomorrow; it will include all the models shown at our regular opening—except such of the exclusive patterns as have been sold since then—and there will also be added many lovely designs that have arrived since the opening. Although this exhibition is made for those who were unable to come last week, those who were here at the opening will, of course, be cordially welcomed, and we can promise you the opportunity of seeing quite a number of exquisite creations that were not on display when you were here before. We are not going to ask you to buy—buy if you wish, but come and see anyway, for the display will be well worth seeing.

IN SCOPE AND IN PRIZES FORT WORTH IS TO BE IN LEAD.

Fort Worth, Oct. 4.—Both in scope of classes and amount of prize money, the Fort Worth Horse Show will outstrip any like event that has ever been held west of Mississippi, according to the annual premium list that has just been issued. The Horse Show will be held five nights during the National Feeders and Breeders' Show, November 22 to 29.

The premium list is the most complete that has ever been issued by the local show. It provides for more than $7000 in prizes and the classes have been greatly enlarged, permitting the exhibitors a wider range.

The roadster classes have been much increased and many of the prizes are greater than before. One of the principal prizes is the $275 premium in the "Horse Show Special" for roadsters. Harness prizes are also larger.

The greatest number of classes have been in the saddle horse lists, the leading card of the show being in this division—$1000 divided four ways in the "Horse Show Classic," claimed to be the largest cash prize offered in saddle events in any show in the country.

The prizes for the hunters and jumpers have been increased in size and number, both for the military and open classes. A special class for women has also been created. In the military classes the heights of the jumps have been raised. A keener competition and greatest interest in these events than heretofore is expected.

William F. Spratt of St. Joseph, Mo., Richard P. Stericker of Aurora, Ill., William D. Lee of Mexico, Mo., and Gen. James D. Parker of the United States army at Fort Sam Houston have been invited to act as judges, the latter in the military division. Messrs.

Spratt and Stericker were judges here last year.

William D. Lee, one of the new judges, has made a country-wide reputation in horse show events during the past few years.

The usual classes in the city salesmen and delivery horse divisions have been arranged this year. Entries in these classes are expected to be more numerous than ever before.

The management of the National Feeders and Breeders' Show has just closed a contract with one of the leading carnival companies of the south to stage its performances on the Coliseum grounds during the stock show. Hitherto the carnival feature of the stock show has been something of a negligible quantity, but this year especial attention is being devoted to the proposition, with an idea of giving greater variety to the show. The carnival company carries twenty cars of the most up-to-date features. They will give several free attractions that have seldom been seen in Texas.

Music lovers throughout the state will be given a great treat in the splendid program that is being arranged by Thavins' famous band. The musical events will be given strictest attention and it is anticipated that hundreds of people will be drawn to the show simply to listen to the master musicians. Thavins' great sextette is also preparing a splendid special program for the show.

It is anticipated that the decorations for the big Coliseum building will be on a more elaborate scale than in previous years. It is the present intention to have appropriate fall colors, which will be in better harmony with the great magnitude of the building.

The official button for the show has just been received. It is emblematic of the season, being an oak leaf in autumn colors.

Fifty big local firms already have agreed to use inserts descriptive of the stock show in their correspondence from this time on. This means that many hundreds of thousands of letters will carry advertising for the big event.

The Women of Texas

What They Are Doing in Various Phases of Their Work

Reported Weekly in The Waco Morning News by Miss Kate Friend, Editor, 525 Terrace Row, Waco, Texas.

SOME DUTY NOW DEVOLVES UPON TEXAS CLUB WOMEN

Through the Federation president, the formal request was made that a Purity Day be named. Upon this day the woman in her club, should give attention to these questions of the day. The proclamation has gone for Texas and a state Purity Day designated. Somewhere we read, "The woman must not only ask that it be done, but she must see that it is done." This was of general application; now comes the time when it must be specific. We club women have asked for a designated time for discussing this national menace to our men and women. The club women must now see that the home papers and the home pulpits observe this day. This carries the gospel of pure living into every town of Texas. Why name a day, if nothing is to come of it?

Again, the fire prevention subject has become one department of Federation work. Next week brings a state day, so proclaimed by our governor, when every home shall give attention to fire conditions. Are the club women to make this prominent? Again, the press should be enlisted; if needs be, the club should write an article in which there is the approval that every home give attention to fire prevention, and see that it has local publication. "By their works ye shall know them." Is this not obligatory upon the part of the club women of Texas?

THE PEACE COMMITTEE A SPECIAL PEACE DAY

To Club Women and other Friends: In Mrs. Eli Hertzberg's letter of last week our beloved president expressed the hope that each club set aside one day in the year for the tremendous, important subject of Peace. The committee we have also wishes to add its voice in support of our president's message and urges that each club not only devote one day to this subject, but urges that each club endeavor to have the schools and churches to observe one of the Peace days.

Last year in many of our towns cash prizes and medals were offered in the schools for the subject of Peace. Realizing that the surest way to influence a nation is to train the high school, college and university student, for they are the coming influential citizens; the citizens of Wichita Falls, Texas, through its Chamber of Commerce, have offered a cash prize of one hundred ($100) dollars to the schools in our district for the Debating and Declamation League of Texas.

We would be glad to know that each district of the Debating and Declamation League of Texas have similar inducements for this all-important subject. The Peace days as observed by the different Peace societies are: The Sunday before Christmas, celebrating the Treaty of Ghent, February 22nd, Washington's birthday, and May 18th, celebrating the first international peace conference of The Hague.

A suitable program for the Sunday before Christmas would be:

Treaty of Ghent. (Suggestion: One Hundred Years of Peace between English Speaking Peoples.)
Judicial Settlement of International Dispute. (Suggestion: Alabama Controversy Settled by Geneva Tribunal. Settlement of the Seals. Paris Tribunal.)
Settlement of the New Foundland Fisheries. The Hague Tribunal.
Compare War and Peace.

We will be pleased to help or suggest the arrangement of programs for any of the Peace days.

MRS. MARY CHRISTENSEN, Chairman.

1605 Ninth Street, Wichita Falls, Tex.

A TIMELY PARAGRAPH FROM MRS. E. H. POTTER

Mrs. Elizabeth Herndon Potter read an excellent paper before her club in Tyler. The following is one of the paragraphs:

"We will keep on increasing two dirt diseases, typhoid and tuberculosis, unless the mothers have some standards on temperatures, ventilation and janitor service in our public schools. Advocate training schools for janitor and daily inspection."

We remember the remark quoted from the International Convention on School Hygiene, which was "I had rather have my best teacher than an efficient janitor." Surely this carries the importance of having the janitor who understands ventilation, temperature and such health incentives. Now that the schools are opening, is it not a timely suggestion that the clubs be ready to give personal inspection when the windows are lowered and the first fires built?

THE ABILENE SHAKSPEARE CLUB SENDS YEAR BOOK

The year book for the Abilene Shakspeare club comes for the new season. One of the first promoters of club work in the first district, Miss Ella Cockrell, is president of this club. At first glance the word of praise is given over this club's continuing the office of critics—two of them. Nothing has been more improving to club members than this criticism, given in the proper spirit and so received. This club meets weekly and adjourns for the summer with Shakspeare's birthday, April 23. There are twenty active members. The first session for the day, when summer vacation experiences will be exchanged and the president give her greeting. America will be sung, which shows that, although a Shakspeare club, the request of the Federation music committee is needed. Julius Caesar will be the first play under review. The roll calls will introduce some of the current topics of the time. Music and parliamentary drills intersperse the literary feature. A Bible day comes in November, after which Merry Wives of Windsor will be studied. The Christmas program closes the club for nearly one month. In January an afternoon will be devoted to the opera. Later in the month a Federation day will be observed with program made as the time is nearer at hand. In February there is to be another music day, also February brings a special program on Women. Here women's suffrage will be discussed. Texas day is included among the special programs, and the work of the Texas women has prominent place. The "City Beautiful" will be reviewed with the opening of spring, a March program. Conditions locally will be discussed; also public health and public amusements. The annual business will consume one afternoon, after which, the open meeting on Shakspeare's birthday, with program not yet arranged, is to come.

ALL THE WACO WOMEN ARE NOW ENLISTED

Great things are attempted and great things are expected for Women's day at the Waco Cotton Palace. Every organization of women, club, fraternal, patriotic, are enlisted, and it is predicted that a two-mile parade will be the result. Call meetings are coming from all the societies, and each is arranging some device for representation in the parade. These bands and six thousand school children are to furnish the music. Floats symbolic of endeavor are to be furnished by each organization. Great enthusiasm prevails, and it is expected that every woman for hundreds of miles around Waco will come to see the great pageant. A brilliant night entertainment is in hands of special committee. In the meantime it is hoped that a number of the prominent club women from all parts of the state can make it convenient to spend Saturday in Waco, take part in the great parade, be out at the Palace and then leave for direct passage to Corpus Christi. The Federation dates will permit of this.

THE WOMAN'S SHAKSPEARE CLUB SENDS NEW YEAR BOOK

Among the new year books now on the editor's desk is that of the Woman's Shakspeare club of Itasca. This club is now nearing its thirteenth year of work for Itasca, not the fate of thirteen by any means, for the people of this town have prospered because of this organization of women. This club began new work with Thursday, and will continue until Shakspeare's birthday, when it closes with an anniversary celebration. The order of business as published in the year book evinces an intelligent and orderly procedure for each club session. There are fifteen active members. The course of study includes Macbeth and several of the Standard Travel talks. Mythology is interspersed. Music comes as the close of each program. In the Texas program, the prominent women writers of this state are of interest to any clubs who are studying Texas history; perhaps this paper might be loaned. On Texas day, women's suffrage for Texas will be discussed. An Educational day comes in April, when the program will be conducted at the high school. The closing quotation for this year book is "Could we see when and where we are to meet again, we would be more tender when we bid our friends good-bye."

THE WEEKLY LETTER FROM STATE PRESIDENT

I want to thank the club presidents for their prompt response in sending in the names of the presidents and corresponding secretaries who are now in office.

One year book received from a Woman's club of which Mrs. T. P. Young is the president, failed to have the name of the town mentioned in the book. This doubtless was omitted by the printer. Will Mrs. Young be good enough to send me the name of her home town, so that she, too, may receive data being sent to the clubs relative to the Sixteenth annual convention to be held in Corpus Christi November 11-14.

Mrs. Frank White, chairman of the General Federation membership committee, will address a copy of the following letter to all clubs holding membership in the Texas Federation.

Mrs. White first wrote to me asking my approval of this movement and I have written her giving my hearty consent, for we should lend our cooperation and do whatever we can to strengthen this magnificent organization of nearly one million women, who have the welfare of humanity at heart, and who through this union of noble womanhood, are doing so much to advance every good cause.

Do, friends, put forth an extra effort to comply with the request of Mrs. White. Remember, too, that loyalty to your own state Federation demands that first you should be a member of the Texas organization.

Mrs. White says:

Dear Madam President: Your club is now a member of your state Federation. I am writing to ask you to consider seriously the question of joining the General Federation.

It is true that through your state you have an indirect connection with the central organization, but it is not close and vital and you give nothing in return. The General Federation earnestly desires to have every club in direct membership, and thus bind together all the club women of our great country in a sisterhood of love and service. It is already the most powerful organization of women in the world with a membership of nearly a million. It reaches into every state in the union; it furnishes programs for study to increase the intelligence and efficiency of the individual; it suggests plans and policies for the betterment of the local conditions; it spreads information in regard to the great questions of the day; it is unifying the aspirations and ideals of our women. It is an increasing force for righteousness in public and private life.

The membership fee is only ten cents per capita. I know of no other national society which asks so little for its local branches. The General Federation, however, wishes to be democratic and hence puts the fee so low that no club can truthfully say, "I can't afford it."

By sending your club to send delegates to the biennial meetings, but the best thing that will come to you will be the broadening of your horizon from the contemplation of national questions to the inspiration of local ones. You are a vital part of this great, wonderful General Federation of Women's clubs.

Will you not apply to the General Federation secretary, if you desire, for information in regard to joining? You need us, and we need you.

Cordially yours,

MRS. FRANK WHITE.

Chairman Mem. Com. G. F. C.

Another important letter from Mrs. Philip N. Moore, ex-president of the General Federation and vice president of the National Conservation Congress, is full of interesting data, and I append it here:

San Antonio, Texas.

Dear Madam President:

In my position as vice president of the Fifth National Conservation Congress, I am impressed with the thought that the club women of America will find much to interest them in connection with the sessions of the congress, which meets in Washington, November 11-14.

The influence of many of the leaders in Washington official life will be exerted to give the congress the social prestige to which it is entitled. The social side is, however, merely incidental to the importance of the congress from the point of view of the women of America. We are deeply interested in the questions involved in the conservation of the natural and vital resources of the nation, and our part of the work is of real moment. All of the officers of the Fifth National Conservation Congress have an earnest recognition of the value of cooperation by the women, and they join with me in expressing the hope that you and your organization will do all that is possible to secure a generous attendance at the Washington meeting and active participation in its deliberations.

Notice will be sent in regard to delegates, details of attendance, program, etc., in ample time to make the same known to your state organization.

Very truly yours,

EVA FERRY MOORE.

Vice President.

Dear friends, your president's office always a busy one, is now, that the time for the convention approaches, busier than ever.

The correspondence grows heavier, and an unusually large attendance at the convention is anticipated.

Remember that all will be heartily welcomed, whether delegates, visiting club women, federated or non-federated club women. Again let me tell you to send application for membership in the Federation to Mrs. M. Hetty Curry, Main street, Brenham, Texas.

Faithfully yours,

MRS. ELI HERTZBERG.

Pres. T. F. W. C.

THE MUSIC COMMITTEE HAS MADE REQUEST

Now that it is nearing time to see what has been accomplished since the last Federation, what have we done for the music committee? Remember, this committee requested that we take steps towards having America and Star Spangled Banner taught to every Texas school child. Have we done this? It is such a simple thing, merely a telephone message to the teacher or a note sent by the little daughter. That is all. It is just as easy to teach one song as another; much easier with the simple tune of America. The average teacher is responsive. So there it is done. With the schools in the larger towns, there is a music supervisor, and that is necessary in one conversation with her. In most cases, the club request has been anticipated, and the child already knows the words of the patriotic songs.

Next, do the club women themselves know the words to America and the Star Spangled Banner? If not, have it sung as the adjournment feature of every afternoon program. The Waco Shakspeare club has closed with two verses of America for years.

The music committee has done this: have we responded? If we have not, let us do so. Doubtless the next request from this committee will be that we observe standing while the Star Spangled Banner is being sung, no matter under what circumstances foreigners do this with their national anthems; are we less respectful than the foreigners?

FOR THE CIVIC COMMITTEE HERE IS AN IDEA

We are to stress the rural club and school, so Mrs. Muse reports in advance the meeting. If we are to turn attention towards the country why not the state federation civic committee too in the club women's edition of one of the California papers. It is in direct line of thought with the Texas club woman.

"In riding through our country, past our rural homes, a very observant traveler would say: 'I wish I could more forcibly impress upon the minds of the farmers the value of attractive surroundings. Every farm home should be attractive. It is not necessary to have a fine house or fancy cottage or expensive lawn fence to make the farm home pretty. To be sure, a neat fence, a few ornaments on the house and the free use of paint helps mightily, but the chief attractions can be made of trees and shrubs. A shady lawn and a shady drive-way are always attractive. Groups of trees, shrubs or flowers never fail to charm. The lawn may not be kept perfectly smooth, all the trees may not be cleanly pruned, yet the home place ornamented with them does not fail to convey the impression that peace and contentment dwell there."

"A pretty farmhouse suggests a happy bird's nest. We do not notice the dwelling so much as we do the surroundings. If the surroundings are pretty we know the interior of the house is all right, and that it is the abode of love and contentment and all that makes life worth living. We look to the city for fine mansions, but to the country for homes."

HOUSEKEEPER AND BALLOT BY MRS. MAUD NATHAN

In advocating the vote for women Mrs. Maud Nathan, president of the Consumers League of New York City, says she has been a housekeeper twenty-five years and she has not found one department in the home which is not affected by politics. This is said to rebuke the idea that the proper sphere of woman is in her home and not in the ballot box. Mrs. Nathan enumerates:

The immigration laws affect the questions of employing servants, and the securing of capable and incapable women to cook the food and effect sanitary conditions of the family.

The tariff list affects the material bought into for every department of the home.

If the streets are not clean the home can not be kept clean.

If the sanitary officers do attend to removal of the garbage promptly the health of the home is jeopardized.

If the police department is not up to the standard for protection, burglars are attracted to the home.

If the milk inspector is not attentive to duty, disease comes into the family.

If the city does not maintain a pure food department, every meal is a menace to every home. One instance alone shows this. Traced to their source, nuts were found to be picked by a girl whose hand was victimized by advanced tuberculosis. The nuts were placed into a unwashed jar and on went the label, "Health Food."

Women are taxed for what they own just as the men. They have no vote, yet what was the mighty cry, what founded our nation, "Taxation without representation."

Mrs. Nathan continues rather spiritedly. "We are told not to meddle with politics, well, politics meddles with everything in our home. Politics say whether a saloon shall be at our corner where our boys can loaf and form the drink habit."

The city regulates street cars, and other means of passage to every home for every family, the man to business, the child to school and the mother to shop.

It has been shown in suffrage states, says Mrs. Nathan, that woman's interest in her home has increased proportionately as she has broadened out to an understanding of what government means and how every department in the home is affected by it.

EX-EMPRESS CHANGES PLANS

Has Spent the Summer at Her Home Instead of Cruising.

London, Oct. 4.—Empress Eugenie has this year broken a custom of many years standing and, instead of boarding her yacht, the Thetis, for the Cowes regatta, and afterwards cruising in the Mediterranean, she has spent this summer at her home, Farnborough Hill.

This change in plans caused a rumor that the ex-empress, who has enjoyed wonderful health, had commenced to fail, but this is denied and it is stated that Eugenie, who is now in her eighty-eighth year, has been out walking in the woods that surround her home, practically every day during the summer. Farnborough Hill, although situated within sight of the great military camp at Aldershot, is one of the quietest places in England, and the little community of exiles, which surrounds the ex-empress, lives segregated among the forest of pines.

In the grounds are the tombs of Eugenie's husband, Napoleon III, and her son, the Prince Imperial, who was killed while fighting for the British in Africa. The bodies having been transferred from Chislehurst, the ex-empress' former residence in England, in 1888. The residence and museum adjoining contains many priceless relics, including the carriage used by the empress and empress at their marriage, and the opening of Napoleon the Third's first parliament. Everywhere are objects to remind one of the past history of this once powerful family.

The Benedictines, who look after the spiritual needs of the household and guard the tombs, have a church and priory, and are now engaged in building an abbey.

CONTRACTORS QUIT

ONE OF THE GREATEST FIRMS IN THE WORLD TO DIS-SOLVE.

Concern Which Dammed the Nile Will Give Up Its Work—Risk Is Too Great.

London, Oct. 4.—The passing of one of the greatest contracting firms in the world, John Aird & Co., is announced for next year. The firm which dammed the Nile and carried out other great works throughout the world, will cease to exist next September, by which time all outstanding contracts will have been completed.

The decision to go out of business has been taken by the present Sir John Aird, who succeeded his father in 1911, and inherited from him a fortune of over $5,000,000. The reason given is that, while the risks of contracting are as great as they ever were, the profits are not nearly so large as they were some twenty or thirty years ago. Great plants will be distributed and a staff of engineers and workmen, who are said to have no superiors, will be seeking new positions as a result of the action.

Like that of most big contracting firms, the history of John Aird & Co. is somewhat romantic. It was started in 1848 by John Aird, a Scottish mason, who came to London from Ross-shire and after following the trade for several years, was appointed superintendent of the Phoenix Gas company at Greenwich. There he learned the business that gave him his start, and the first big undertaking of his firm was the laying of water and gas mains for London. His son, the first baronet, who died in 1911, joined the firm in 1881, and under him the firm made great strides. They removed Crystal Palace from Hyde Park to its present site at Sydenham; built water and gas works all over the country, as well as in Berlin, Copenhagen, Russia, France, Italy, Denmark and Brazil. They built and extended railways, and constructed the Royal Albert, East and West India and Tilbury docks on the Thames, and later the Manchester Ship Canal. The great docks at Avonmouth and Singapore were created by them, but the damming of the Nile capped all their work.

It was not easy to get this undertaking financed, the Egyptian government not being willing to take the risk. It was accomplished when the late Sir John Aird met Sir Ernest Cassel, the banker, in Egypt one day. Aird placed the plans before the banker and in two days the financial end of the undertaking was arranged and Aird was able to go to the Egyptian government with an offer to construct dams at Assouan and Assiout without even the first payment being made until the work was completed.

BOMBITA IS TO QUIT BULL RING

TO KILL HIS LAST TORO AT BENEFIT PERFORMANCE.

HE STARTED AS A PRINTER

Decides to Retire From the Sport After a Successful Career—No Reason Given.

Madrid, Oct. 4.—Bombita, the most famous torero in Spain, has announced his retirement from the bull ring. He will kill his last bull October 19, for the benefit of the Bull Fighters' Pawn Shop, an institution of which he is the founder. Bombita made his own fortune, estimated at $500,000, entirely from the ring and has besides given away great sums in benevolence.

Bombita's real name is Ricardo Torres. He was a typesetter as a youth but soon left this calling to follow his two elder brothers into the arena.

Few toreros have acquired such a great reputation as Bombita. His popularity in Spain is universal. He is chiefly famous for the grace of his thrust and for a reckless courage in giving the bull a chance. He has been gored thirty-eight times, always of course slightly, and it has been possible for him to save himself by his acrobatic skill even when on the horns of the bull. His smile is known from the boulevards of Paris to the Puerta del Sol, and is one of the things about him most often talked of. During his most reckless feats Bombita smiles.

The reasons for Bombita's retirement are not known. Some of his friends aver that he is giving up his career for the sake of a young girl of Barcelona whom he is about to marry.

Bombita's departure from the ring coincides with the return to it of another famous torero, Mazzantini, who gave up the calling for politics eight years ago. During these eight years Mazzantini has been a municipal councillor of Madrid, assistant deputy mayor of Madrid and a general councillor. He recently ran for parliament and just failed of election. He has suddenly felt the call of his former profession and intends to return to it.

POINCARÉ PASSES AMONG PEOPLE

A MILLION FRENCHMEN HAVE LOOKED INTO FACE OF PRESIDENT.

REPRESENTS A NEW SPIRIT

Confidence, Energy and Action Are Fundamentals of His Policy. Speaks Like Wilson.

Paris, Oct. 4.—A million Frenchmen have looked into the plain, friendly face of President Poincaré during his September excursion through southwestern France. In automobiling from Paris to Bordeaux, he passed through many a town and village. He saw 120,000 troops at the autumn maneuvers in the Toulouse country. He met some thousands of the important people of the provinces through which he traveled. His utterances in reply to addresses of local authorities and at public dinners have deepened the impression that Poincaré represents the new spirit in France, the spirit of confidence, energy and action. The dictation of his speeches has aroused the admiration of literary France.

President Poincaré and President Wilson are alike in one respect, remarked a newspaper observer. "Whatever they say will be finely phrased; why either of them has done a thing will be explained in the best possible manner. Were Mr. Wilson a Frenchman he would be a fellow academician with Poincaré."

The presidential party, which included Madame Poincaré, several members of the cabinet and their wives, traveled in forty automobiles. They took intervals on dusty roads of from 300 to 400 yards apart so that the procession was often eight or ten miles long. The presence of Madame Poincaré and other women brought about an innovation at official dinners in France. It was arranged that the women should also be guests and so were the wives of the provincial authorities. A white straw hat with velvet ribbons, such as are commonly worn in the Creuse, was presented to Madame Poincaré at Guéret. She laughingly took off her fashionable Paris toque and put on the peasant hat. She wore it at lunch and drove away in it, the country people cheering. Four thousand persons dined with the president at Toulouse. When they drank his health, 700 bottles of champagne were emptied to fill the glasses once.

There Is a Contrast.

M. Henri Labrousse, history professor at the Bordeaux Lycee, recalls his souvenirs of America in an article appearing for certain reforms in French Public Instruction.

One of the things which particularly impressed M. Labrousse in America was the production of the republican national convention of 1907 by the members of Columbia University. M. Labrousse considers that such a scene would appear somewhat childish to students of French universities on account of the differences between the French and the American temperament, but he uses it as an illustration of the immense difference between the teaching of history in France and the United States. French professors are not expected to teach their pupils history after 1875. The Frenchman, therefore, must pick up his knowledge of modern politics as best he can while the American boy enters manhood fully equipped to take an intelligent part in the political progress of his country.

M. Labrousse has much admiration for the manner in which politics and political science are taught in American schools and colleges, and advocates the adoption of similar branches of teaching in France.

France Is Humiliated.

French public opinion considers France to have been humiliated by the recent speech of King Constantine of Greece at Potsdam when, during the banquet given by the German emperor, he sacrificed the successes of the Greek troops in the Balkans to their officers' knowledge of Prussian military training.

For a number of years a French military mission, with General Eyndoux at its head, has been in Greece instructing Greek troops, and in consequence of this France had looked upon Greek victories as evidence of the superiority of her military science. She was, therefore, amazed to hear that the Greek officers were deemed by the king and the emperor of more account in the victories over the Bulgarians and Turks than the efforts of her military mission.

The belief in general today that the Potsdam utterances of the Grecian king mark the decline of French influence in Greece and the beginning of a Germanophile policy which will finally attach Greece to the Triple Alliance. King Constantine is said to be personally less friendly to France than was his father, and the present queen, Sophie, was born a Hohenzollern.

King Constantine announces his intention of visiting Paris incognito, next month, when he may be able by a tactful speech to soften the painful impression created by his remarks in Germany.

Guarding Against Attack.

London, Oct. 4.—The propensity of the suffragettes to apply the torch without any apparent provocation has caused people all over England to guard their property against possible attack from the women agitators.

A typical case is the parish church of Brentwood, Essex. The building was neither damaged nor directly threatened, but nevertheless most adequate precautions were taken to protect it and its treasures. For months sentries chosen from among the parishioners have kept a continual watch on their church, the women taking the day watch in turns and the men the night watch. Even now the day watch is continued while other precautions have been taken to prevent a night attack. Each week a list of watchers is hung in the church, the names of

THE TEXAS COTTON PALACE GREATEST SHOW OF ALL

All Waco and the Cotton Palace will be a veritable blaze of glory during the exposition period of this most unique show, November 1st to 16th, when the Southwest's best products in agriculture, horticulture, livestock, poultry, etc., will be shown in the greatest array. The magnificent Cotton Palace grounds have been greatly enlarged and beautified.

10,000 CHRYSANTHEMUM DISPLAY.

There will be among the lovely floral displays, an area covered with 10,000 blooming chrysanthemums in all their grandeur. Just think of it! Ten thousand chrysanthemums under one roof, all in bloom. Several new buildings have been added to the exposition this year, which will provide for the grandest ensemble of the exhibits of the nations and displays of all that is modern in machinery, implements, automobiles, advances in science and industry.

SOUTHWEST'S PROGRESS.

At the Cotton Palace in the great autumnal displays are mirrored the Southwest's wondrous progress.

WOMEN'S WORK—FEMININE FASHIONS.

The women's work and feminine fashions will be featured during the Greater 1913 Cotton Palace as never before. Into their hands have been placed the departments of Art, Textiles, China and Pottery, Culinary, Cotton Modeling, China Exhibits, Arts and Crafts, Historical and Curio Collections, the "call of the women" displays, labor-saving devices for women, German, Bohemian, Italian, Japanese and other displays from the nations. The style shows at the Cotton Palace will be an especially attractive feature, depicting authoritative creations in costumes, wraps, coat suits and women's apparel. Dame Fashion's latest decrees will be shown on living models. The women the state over will be interested in viewing the exquisite beauty of fabrics and colors as shown in the promenades, on the boulevards, at the band concerts and balls during the Cotton Palace.

OF VAST EDUCATIONAL VALUE.

The Texas Cotton Palace is of vast educational value, in that there are exhibits, demonstrations, lectures and stereopticon views given by experts from the various universities and colleges of Texas. The State University and the Agricultural and Mechanical College will be fully represented; the Blind Institute of Chicago and other institutions will have exhibits.

CORN AND CANNING CLUBS.

The Boys' and Girls' Corn and Canning Clubs will be well represented; the cotton modeling exhibits, the bee and honey divisions and the cooking demonstrations will be simply superb.

SENSATIONAL SPORTS.

The free features include daring Roman chariot and Roman standing races, and various hippodrome features.

MOTORDROME RACING.

There will be the most thrilling of all dare-devilism—the motordrome events, wherein the racers take their lives in their hands and furnish excitement to satisfy the most exacting.

ELLERY'S BAND CONCERTS.

There will be three concerts daily by Ellery's world famous band, one concert in the morning, one in the afternoon and one in the evening; also high-class soloists and vaudeville artists to entertain you all the while.

CARNIVAL ATTRACTIONS.

Patterson's Greater 1913 Carnival Company has been engaged to amuse and entertain the people during the Cotton Palace this fall. There will be Wild West Shows, Cowboys, Indians, Cossacks, Wild Animals, banquet with the lions, etc., and thrilling high diving amid flames of fire, this feature being entirely free to the multitudes, and being one of the most sensational ever devised.

COTTON PALACE ZOO.

One of the strongest new features in addition to the botanical gardens and the fish hatcheries and aquarium at the Cotton Palace this fall is the zoo and menagerie, which has been arranged for the pleasure of the countless visitors. There will be monkeys, wolves, reptiles and various birds and beasts of the greatest interest to the children as well as the grown-ups.

SPECIAL RAILROAD RATES.

Low railroad rates will prevail on all railroads, and the people of all Texas should avail themselves of the opportunity to see the beautiful Texas Cotton Palace, indeed, the South's most unique exposition, which shows the most elaborate decorative work ever conceived. Artists of international reputation have worked panels and pictures in cotton and grain that will bewilder by the beauty thereof, it being simply wondrous how human ingenuity could so skillfully portray scenes by the use of cotton and grain.

WACO'S MARVELOUS GROWTH.

There are millions of dollars worth of improvements going on in Waco and a visit to this thriving, throbbing municipality that has awaked into the fastest growing city in Texas, is well worth any one's while. The Cotton Palace dates are November 1st to 16th, and you will be highly entertained in every way.

COTTON PALACE—PALACE OF COTTON.

The Cotton Palace is a Palace of Cotton in every sense of the word. Among the greatest features is the annual cotton modeling contest between the boys and girls of all Texas, wherein they prepare profiles, maps, animals, flags, etc., in cotton, in white and cotton in colors, and to say that this is an interesting department but expresses it mildly. The artistic talents of the youth of Texas are brought into the full play, and the winners receive substantial cash prizes.

PANAMA CANAL REPLICA.

One of the other great features of the Texas Cotton Palace this Fall will be the exhibition of the Panama Canal Replica, showing the Atlantic and Pacific entrances, the locks and dams, passing boats, etc.

FREE PARADE PAGEANTS.

Every day during the Cotton Palace will be a feature day and there will be various street parades pulled off depicting civic, allegorical and mythical lore, to the delight of the masses. The gorgeousness of these parades will surpass any in the Southwest, as neither time, pains nor money are being spared to make the Greater 1913 Cotton Palace the show supreme this fall, to the end that it may take leading rank in the great educational, inspirational and amusement attractions of the nation. The Cotton Palace is unique in conception, brilliant in execution and as the years go by grows bigger, better and grander. Do not miss it this fall, but remember the dates, November 1st to 16th, and ask your railroad agent for full particulars. He's a live wire and knows about the Texas Cotton Palace and the city of Waco.

about twenty or thirty of the more leisureed women members of the congregation appearing on it under one or more special days. The women take half-hour turns from 9 o'clock in the morning until 6 in the evening.

Girls on a Strike.

London, Oct. 4.—The girl fish-net makers of Lowestoft have gone out on strike as a protest against the introduction of men and boys at the net-making machines. The strikers claim that the boys work for less than they do and that the employers aim at driving the girls out of the trade.

Thus women have turned the tables on those who in the past have accused them of underbidding other workers. The wage paid the girls is about $2 a week, while the boys are paid $2.50 a week. The owners, however, say that this wage for boys is only temporary and as soon as they learn the trade they will be paid more than the girls. As a result of the demand for nets the boys will be worked at night as the factory act will not permit of women being worked at night.

Experiments in Radium.

London, Oct. 4.—Madame Curie, the discoverer of radium, who attended the meetings of the British association at Birmingham, spent much of her time in England with Dr. Rutherford, professor of physics at Liverpool University. This is explained by the fact that Dr. Rutherford has been carrying on certain experiments in radio activity from which Madame Curie expects great things. In this connection she said recently: "Dr. Rutherford is the one man living who promises to confer some inestimable boon on mankind as the result of my radium. I would advise England to watch him. His work in radio activity has surprised me. Great developments are likely to transpire shortly to which the discovery of radium was only preliminary."

"OLD DARBY"

Rosa Bonheur's $65,000.00 Painting

Will Be On Exhibition All Next Week At The Sanger Store In Our Big Silk Room On The First Floor

This is not a reproduction, but the original and famous "Old Darby" painting done by Rosa Bonheur, one of the world's most famous artists, at her home at Fontainebleau, France, in 1884, and art critics and laymen the world over have united in declaring it one of the most marvelous pieces of realism ever put on canvas. This original is the property of the Thalls Estate of Boston, Mass., and an offer of $60,000 by the late J. Pierpont Morgan for the painting was refused.

The subject of the piece, "Old Darby," is a venerable white horse, who is seen thrusting his head from a barn door. The canvas in the picture measures 7x9 feet and has a commercial value of $65,000. It was never sold until after the death of Rosa Bonheur, at which time "Old Darby," with other paintings came into the possession of her favorite niece, Eugenie Bonheur. In 1900 the picture was acquired by E. M. Thalls, formerly of Boston, and now the property of the Thalls estate. Next to the famous "Horse Fair," which is now the property of the Metropolitan Museum, this picture is the most pretentious of Bonheur's works. Few of her paintings bear the same broad technique that makes "Old Darby" one of her greatest achievements.

In real life "Old Darby" was a fisherman's horse, whose humble mission in life was to drag the fish nets in to shore near Havre, France. The artist, always a lover of animals, saw him at his work, and both admiring and pitying him in his old age, bought him and sent him to Fontainebleau, where she used him for several motives. "Old Darby" is truly a Labor of Love. It is said of Rosa Bonheur that her love of horses was as a mother's love for her children, and it was this love that inspired in her that almost superhuman talent in their portrayal—a talent that stamped her as the greatest painter of horses the world has ever known.

"OLD DARBY" WILL BE ON EXHIBITION IN OUR BIG SILK ROOM, ON THE FIRST FLOOR. AND WE INVITE YOU TO COME AND SEE THIS FAMOUS PAINTING. WE ESPECIALLY INVITE ALL WHO ARE INTERESTED IN ART AND THE STUDY OF ART TO VIEW THIS PAINTING HERE THIS WEEK.

THE INTERURBAN AND ALL WACO STREET CARS COME HERE DIRECT.

hans. We can now get acquainted with our neighbors.

In the rush of an opening season do not get too busy to plant the bulbs. Nothing is more attractive in a home, no matter how humble that home is, when the chill of winter comes, than a blooming box or single plant about the room.

Corra Harris, the woman who wrote the "Circuit Rider's Wife," and was then attacked for not being orthodox in the ideas she promulgated, is now running a serial story in Good Housekeeping. This is "Sabbath Webster's Love."

Of course, you thought a bad word, if you did not dare say it, when the recent steady drops brought a leak upon your nice, fresh ceiling. Be philosophical; say, such is life, and go on. Don't worry; it makes the wrinkles come.

The women will be well represented in the Higgins banquet hall.

Since this year has added rooms for irregulars to our public school, mothers should visit these rooms, inspect the work, and seek to understand just what the purpose of this department is. Is not this unique? It comes from Dr. Wiley, the deposed pure food man from the national bureau, who is saying a few things all on his own account. In a recent article he begins, "Why do wolves feed upon sheep?" Is it the selfishness of the wolves or the sheepishness of the sheep? Quite a clever way of opening his article, do you not think?

The autumn roses are always so beautiful. The next time you see a red one, admire and then get your myrtle and read the story of Venus and Adonis; or, read Shakespeare's poem founded on this story. Then associate with the legend that the petals of the white rose flushed red for an anguish over the death of Adonis, and his blood sinking into the ground dyed the rose permanently. This is how the beautiful red rose came to be. Dollars to doughnuts, there is not a

W. M. Manchester and E. M. Ainsworth Are Now Partners.

As indicating the stability of the Waco real estate market, and the confidence as to future conditions here, some of the best known men of Waco are from time to time entering the real estate field.

One of the latest and most interesting announcements in this connection is the new firm of Manchester & Ainsworth, composed of William M. Manchester and E. M. Ainsworth, whose offices are in the Amicable building. They will do a general real estate, rental and loan business.

Mr. Manchester, the senior member of the firm, is well known, having been in the transfer business here for many years, and is a man who claims the full confidence of everybody, due to his upright dealings and strict business integrity. He has also helped to develop the city and section, and has done well in his land investments in addition to his transfer business, and likewise has been associated with the banking interests of the DeLeon section for some years. He is a progressive and successful man, and his entrance upon the real estate field is a significant matter, showing the belief in Waco's stability generally.

The junior member of the firm, E. M. Ainsworth, has been in Waco since 1908, most of that time in the newspaper business, but he has also had to do with the real estate market here for some years as a buyer in a careful way, and is considered one of the best posted men in real estate matters in the city. He is widely known, popular, and stands for a square deal in everything. The new firm starts under auspicious conditions, and the members thereof will be certain to claim the share of the business which they are entering.

Girlish, Wrinkle-Free Skin Easy to Have

(From Pilgrim Magazine.)

Since its remarkable astringent and tonic properties became known, clever women all over the world have been using the axolite face bath to "tone up" their faces, remove wrinkles and draw flabby cheeks and neck back to normal. After using the solution, the face immediately feels much firmer. The skin tightens evenly all over the face, thus reducing lines and sagging. The formula is: Powdered axolite, 1 oz., dissolved in witch hazel, ½ pint.

Another wonderful facial beautifier and rejuvenator that has become quite rare in the United States, as in Europe, is mercolized wax. Druggists report a great demand. The wax literally absorbs a sallow, blotchy or withered complexion, giving the fresh, vigorous, healthy, youthful skin underneath a chance to "breathe" and to show itself. Applying the wax at night, like cold cream, washing it off mornings, will completely renovate a poor complexion in a week or ten days. One ounce usually is sufficient.

COUNTY FARM DEMONSTRATION.

Belton County Committee Would Arrange For Expert.

Belton, Oct. 4.—A committee from the Belton county experiment station association appeared before the Belton county commissioners court this morning at its meeting and urged that a county farm demonstrator be employed, his salary to be borne equally by the county and the United States department of agriculture. Members of the committee were P. L. Downs and Sam Carter of Temple, Judge G. M. Felts, Geo. W. Taylor, Dr. Pitt S. Turner and H. B. Savage of Belton; Superintendent A. K. Short of the experiment station and Assistant Superintendent W. Z. Miller. The court took the matter under advisement and will decide the matter at its next meeting to be held October 13.

Street Cars Collide.

Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 4.—Four persons were seriously wounded, two probably fatally, and twenty others were more or less injured early today when two interurban cars collided in a fog near Columbus. The impact caused both cars to telescope.

Southwest Texas Fair.

Beaumont, Oct. 4.—The Southwest Texas fair will open here November 25 for eight days of entertainment. Requests for space are arriving daily and present indications point to this being one of the biggest exhibitions ever conducted in this section of the state.

Try This Penslar Cream

Women no longer use one toilet cream for all purposes—that is, if they are particular about the little refinements of the toilet.

A nourishing, softening, healing and refreshing cream like Penslar Buttermilk Cerate is one thing; and a vanishing bleach cream, used for protecting the skin, is quite another.

Penslar
TRADE MARK

Dioxide Cream is a very dainty cream of the latter sort. It is really a dioxide cream, and contains oxygen. It is really a vanishing cream—rub it on your hand or cheek for a moment and you will see for yourself.

A great many women use it before going into strong winds or bright sunshine. Just a little rubbed over the face and hands, then dusted over so lightly with the powder puff, protects the skin against all sorts of weather.

Of course it is fine—the Penslar label is never found on anything but the highest quality products. It's sure to please you. Why not stop in and get a 25c jar next time you are near our store? You might as well have the best when it costs no more.

Progress Laundry

To Our Friends and Patrons:

We ask your co-operation in meeting the condition in the new labor law in regard to the employment of FEMALES. The hours are limited, as you doubtless know.

We ask that you give us as much time as possible in getting out your work. We will not be able to call for a special bundle after 8:30 a. m. Also drivers are not allowed to make special prices, but such information must come from the office. You will be charged by our list. You will also greatly accommodate our delivery force and save quite a bit of driving of these dumb animals, by having the amount of your laundry bill at the place of delivery. The drivers are forced each week to settle with us. You will greatly accommodate the drivers by having your laundry ready when called for.

In meeting the conditions brought about by our legislature, we are sure you will assist us in every way possible. The management will more than be glad to rectify any trouble you may have, if you will only call his attention to such matters.

Yours for GREATER WACO,

D. P. WALLACE,
Manager and Proprietor

International Catholic Truth Society

October is the month of the Rosary and today is the Feast of the Holy Rosary. In the custom of dedicating certain months of the year to the practice of certain devotions the church seeks not alone to render special honor to our Lord and His blessed ones, but strives also by that means to preserve in the Christian world an atmosphere of practical piety that all can breathe in and through it strengthen their spiritual life. The month of October was dedicated to the devotion to our lady under title of the Holy Rosary in order to obtain, by the constant cry for help which it contains, the intercession of the blessed mother in the trying circumstances of modern life. There were periods in the church's history when the skies were black with portent, and when the spiritual world seemed to be crumbling to its foundations. At just such times the Holy Father called for the universal prayer of the Rosary, and out of the darkness came peace and security. Just after the reformation had been inaugurated, Solomon II, the greatest of the Sultans, taking advantage of the confusion caused in Europe by Luther, had filled the sixteenth century with terror by the noise of his exploits. He left to his son, Selim II, the prospect of being able to carry out the ambition of his race, to subjugate Rome and Vienna, the pope and the emperor, to the power of the Crescent. The Turkish fleet had already mastered the greatest part of the Mediterranean Sea, and was threatening Italy, when on October 7, 1571, it came into action in the Gulf of Lepanto, with the Pontifical galleys, supported by the fleets of Spain and Venice. It was Sunday, throughout the world the confraternities of the Rosary were engaged in their work of prayer. It was the night of the celebrated miracle of Pius V, who saw in the Vatican by a supernatural light the progress of the distant battle. The Christians under Don John of Austria triumphed, and Christendom was saved from the rule of Mahomet. Pope Gregory XIII, in memory of the event, proclaimed the first Sunday in October as the feast of the Holy Rosary.

The feast of St. Teresa, one of the church's greatest saints, will be celebrated on October 15. St. Teresa was born in Avila, a city of old Castile, in Spain, in the year 1515. At the age of twenty she entered a convent of the Religious Order of Barefooted Carmelites in her native land. In that convent she enacted strict rules for her order and saw that they were obeyed; hence she is called the founder of what is termed the reformation of barefooted Carmelites. There are four convents of her order in the United States; namely, in Baltimore, New Orleans, St. Louis and San Francisco. The religious order of barefooted Carmelites dates in all probability from the days of the Crusaders. An Italian nobleman from the Calabrian coast, when he joined a valiant army, formed to rescue the Holy Land from the hands of the Mohammedans, made a vow that if he returned victorious from the field of battle he would build a convent in honor of the Blessed Virgin Mary. Having gained the victory he selected the Mountain of Carmel for the location of a convent, and on top of the mountain he built it and called it the Convent of Our Blessed Lady of Mount Carmel.

One of the most notable members of the English hierarchy is the Right Rev. Robert Brindle, D. S. O., bishop of Nottingham, whose long connection with the English army as chaplain was ended in 1899, when he became auxiliary bishop of Westminster. In 1901 he was translated to Nottingham, being the fourth ruler of the diocese. Bishop Brindle, who is now 75 years of age, was ordained at the English college at Lisbon in 1862, and after mission work in Plymouth he began his career as army chaplain in 1874. He had his first experience of war in the Egyptian campaign in 1882, when he was the first chaplain to arrive at the front. Then for four years he saw incessant service. He was present at the battle of the Marston in 1884, and he took part in the Nile expedition. He captained one of the boats of the Royal Irish Regiment—the regiment which won the prize offered by Lord Wolseley for the first boat to reach the end of the river journey. In 1886 he was present at the battle of Ginnies, after which he did ten years of home service at Colchester and Aldershot. In '96 he went on the Dongola expedition and won golden opinions during the long wait at Sarras, when cholera was in the camp. At Dongola he successfully took a gunboat into action. In 1898, for his conduct in the field at Atbara and Khartum, he received the D. S. O., being then the only chaplain on whom such an honor had been conferred. At Khartum he was one of the three chaplains who performed the Gordon memorial service, and he composed a prayer which was recited on that occasion and printed for distribution by Lord Kitchener's order. He has been mentioned in dispatches five times, and twice promoted for war service. Added to the D. S. O. he wears an array of British and Egyptian medals and clasps, as well as the Turkish orders of the Medjidie and Osmanli. He is moreover the recipient of a "Good Service Pension," the grant of a Civil C. B., having only been refused him on the ground that such a decoration could not be conferred on a chaplain. He is the compiler of the prayer book for Catholic soldiers which has been adopted by the war office. Bishop Brindle is a Knight of the Grand Cross of Isabel I. Catholic, and it will be remembered that in 1906 he received Queen Victoria Eugenia of Spain into the church.

WACO CHURCHES

Baptist.

COLUMBUS STREET BAPTIST.

Rev. F. S. Groner, Pastor.
(Thirtieth and Columbus.)
At the Columbus Street Baptist church tonight at 7:30 o'clock, Pastor Groner will preach on "A Worldly Man's Last Night on Earth." How a business man was caught in the very high tide of success and summoned before God; how he died at night; why most people die at night. These things will be discussed in the sermon. The choir will sing an anthem and a male trio, consisting of Messrs. Hamilton, James and Hamilton, will sing.

At the morning service there will be an anthem by the choir and a solo by Miss Lou Upshaw. The Sunday school meets at 9:30 a. m. It is rally day for our Sunday school and a great attendance is expected.

A hearty and earnest invitation is extended everybody to attend all our services.

TURNER STREET CHURCH.

Rev. P. H. Faulk, Pastor.
(On the East Side.)
"Commercialized Vice" will be the subject of a lecture sermon by Rev. W. A. Jarrell, a well known authority on purity reform in Texas, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Pastor Faulk will speak at the evening service, and at the evening service the congregation will unite with that of the Elm Street Methodist church for an address by Dr. Jarrell.

PROVIDENT HEIGHTS.

Rev. Marlan J. Matthews, Pastor.
Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. Pastor Matthews will preach at both services today. Special music at both houses. A Sunday school will be organized at 3:30 p. m. The Ladies' Aid and Missionary society is called to meet for a brief session just before the evening service. The public will be welcomed to all services.

CLAY STREET CHURCH.

Rev. E. O. Bryan, Pastor.
(Eleventh and Clay Streets.)
Pastor Bryan will speak at both services today. At 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday school meets at 2:30 a. m.; A. L. Bush, superintendent. The Baptist Young People's union meets in the afternoon at 4 o'clock; D. W. Lewis, president. The Women's Missionary union will meet next Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 p. m.; Miss D. E. Amis, president. The Y. W. A. meets the same day at 8 p. m. A prayer meeting of the Baracas will be held Tuesday at 8 p. m.; T. E. Smitherman, leader for the hour. A cordial invitation is extended for visitors to attend the meetings of the Baracas and Philanthropic classes, which are held at the Sunday school hour.

ROSS AVENUE.

Rev. W. L. A. Stranburg, Pastor.
(Twentieth and Ross Avenue.)
"The Lord's Supper a Restrained Ordinance" will be the theme of the pastor at the morning hour. At the evening service the pastor will preach on "A Vision of God." Meeting of the B. Y. P. U. at 7 o'clock. Prayer meeting every Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The Ladies' Aid society meets Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. A cordial welcome is extended to all.

Methodist.

ELM STREET CHURCH.

Rev. J. J. Creed, Pastor.
At the close of the morning service the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered and all members are expected to be present. The subject of the morning sermon will be "Christ is All." Some of the sub-heads are: "Christ is All Wisdom," "Christ is All Pardon," "Christ is in All the Relationships of Life."

At night the Turner Street Baptist congregation will attend a joint meeting at which Dr. W. A. Jarrell of Dallas will speak in the interest of the World Purity federation. Dr. Jarrell is superintendent of the Purity federation in Texas, Arkansas and Louisiana. He comes with the indorsement of central authorities in all the leading evangelical churches and all interests in this great cause are invited to hear him.

MORROW STREET.

Rev. A. D. Porter, Pastor.
(Eleventh and Morrow.)
Pastor Porter will speak at both services of the day; in the morning at 11 o'clock and at 8 p. m. Sunday school at 9:30 a. m.; W. H. Sanger, superintendent. The pastor announces that both services will be carried out according to schedule, without regard to weather conditions. A cordial invitation is extended to the public.

AUSTIN AVENUE.

Rev. Hubert D. Knickerbocker, Pastor.
(Twelfth and Austin.)
Rev. H. W. Knickerbocker, pastor of the Central Methodist church of Fort Worth, and brother to the pastor here, will speak at both of the services of the church today. The time of evening service has been moved up to 7:45 p. m. Sunday school meets at 9:30 a. m. The public is cordially invited to attend the services.

Lutheran.

Rev. P. O. Bruland, Pastor.
(Tenth and Jefferson.)
English services will be conducted by Pastor Bruland at 10:45 a. m. Norwegian services will be held in the evening at 8 o'clock. Sunday school and Bible class meet at 9:30 a. m. Members of the Young People's Lutheran union will be entertained next Wednesday evening by Miss Homish Tusti, 2824 Ruter street. The quarterly business meeting of the church will be held Thursday at 7:30 p. m.

SUNDAY SCHOOL RALLY.

Regardless of the conditions of the weather, the rally day services at the Columbus Street Baptist church Sunday school will be held at 8:30 o'clock this morning. Special music has been provided for this service, and a general good time is expected.

A special invitation is extended to every one to be present from 9:30 until 11 a. m., and fathers and mothers of the pupils of the school are especially urged to be present. Mothers also are urged to come and bring the members of the cradle roll.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

The Christian Endeavor of the Central Christian church will meet at 7 p. m. The subject of the evening is "The Ideal Christian—His Co-operation with Others." Scriptural basis, Col. 4:1-18. Today's program is a consecration meeting. U. S. Henderson is leader for the week.

LECTURE AT Y. M. C. A.

The series of lectures for men to be given at the Y. M. C. A. this season will begin Sunday at 4 p. m. with Pat M. Neff of Waco as the speaker. The hall will be filled with chairs, but those desiring a seat are asked to come early.

A kyda of Japan will give the lecture on Oct. 12 and Judge Clifford Rowe of Chicago will speak on Sunday, Nov. 23.

Mr. Icyda is a Japanese of real ability as an orator and lecturer, and Judge Clifford Rowe is the man who led the fight in Chicago against the white slave traffic and won. He is the leading figure in American purity reform.

Presbyterian.

Rev. E. E. Ingram, Pastor.
It is the purpose of the Central Presbyterian church to feature its music during the fall and winter months, beginning with the services of today. Rev. E. E. Ingram, the pastor, feels that if God thought enough of music to send a choir from heaven to announce the arrival of his son, we can well afford to feature music to sing the praises of his son.

That one of the very best choirs Waco has ever known has been assembled will be seen from the following enrollment:

Soprano—Mrs. J. G. Wren, Mrs. Gaylord N. Bebout, Mrs. J. H. Watson, Miss Stella Lacy, Mrs. W. D. Lacy.

Altos—Mrs. A. W. Flaniken, Mrs. W. Y. Miller, Mrs. E. Brack, Tenors—W. V. Miller, Dr. S. M. Myers.

Bass—Gaylord N. Bebout, J. W. Carroll, W. L. Millet, S. A. Luckey. Mrs. J. W. Carroll will be the organist and Dr. S. M. Myers will direct the choir.

From this roll of singers it will be seen that music of a high order, consisting of solos, duets, quartets and choruses, will be given. A monthly concert will be held as part of the regular order, the first one of which will be rendered the last Sunday in this month.

Today's program in full will be as follows:

Morning.
Prelude.
Twenty-Third Psalm in concert.
"Holy, Holy, Holy."
Invocation.
Hymn.
Responsive reading.
Quartet, "How High to Me, Ye Wonders of Love."

The Opening of the New Store is Now a Matter of Only a Few Days

A large force is busy night and day placing the fixtures on first floor. Another force is just as busy on second floor, opening up, checking and preparing the new merchandise for the different departments.

This merchandise, which is Bright, Fresh and New, is right in style, right in quality and is being marked right in price.

A WORD IN REGARD TO FIXTURES—

When the store was planned, it was decided by the management to make it the finest store of the kind in the South. A store arrangement expert of national reputation was employed to draw the plans, and his ideas have been carried out to the smallest detail.

The fixtures are the best that the manufacturers can build, every new feature of up-to-date display methods being incorporated in them.

The Mailander Company of this city built the plate glass floor cases, which are now being installed; and we wish to state that Waco is to be congratulated on having a home institution that can turn out such magnificent work. Counters, shelving and tables were made by a Kansas City manufacturer—the best in the country on this class of fixtures. These are now being placed.

But the Finest Fixtures of All—the Cabinets, Sectional Cases, etc. for Ready-to-Wear section and the Millinery Cases—all second class floor furniture, which were to be built by a great Grand Rapids concern, have not arrived. Labor troubles in the factory have caused an unavoidable delay—and the manufacturers can't promise delivery until October 20 to 25.

As the season is advancing and Cotton Palace time nearly here, we are compelled to open the store without these much desired fixtures.

We ask that the good people of Waco make allowances for appearance of the second floor. Just remember it's only temporary. When complete it will be the handsomest department in the state.

Opening Date Will Be Announced Later

IN THE SUNDAY SCHOOL WORLD

November 3 is Anniversary of Birthday of Modern Teaching.

November 3, 1783, is the birthday of the modern Sunday school. On that day Robert Raikes began to publicly promote his movement through the newspaper of which he was editor in Gloucester, England. In four years there were 250,000 scholars in such schools. This was achieved in spite of opposition and ridicule. Raikes was called "Bobbie Wild Goose," and his school "the ragged regiment."

There are now 265,129 Sunday schools, 2,653,120 officers and teachers. The total Sunday school population of the world is 26,552,715.

World Sunday school conventions have been held as follows: London, 1889; St. Louis, 1893; London, 1898; Jerusalem, 1904; Rome, 1907; Washington, 1910; Zurich, 1913.

National conventions have been held in the United States as follows: New York, 1832; Philadelphia, 1833; Philadelphia, 1859; Newark, 1869; Indianapolis, 1872. Since the latter date international conventions have taken the place of the national as follows: Baltimore, 1875; Atlanta, 1878; Toronto, 1881; Louisville, 1884; Chicago, 1887; Pittsburgh, 1890; St. Louis (with the second world convention), 1893; Boston, 1896; Atlanta, 1899; Denver, 1902; Toronto, 1905; Louisville, 1908; San Francisco, 1911.

In 1824 the American Sunday School union was organized; object, "To plant a Sunday school wherever there is a population."

twelve committeemen are from the United States, three from Canada, fifteen from Great Britain, one from India, one from Australia. Nineteen hundred and eight witnessed the introduction of the graded lessons. When this system is complete there will be from sixteen to eighteen different grades studying as many different portions of the Bible at the same time.

The seventh world's Sunday school convention (Zurich, July 7 to 15, 1909) proved one of the most remarkable religious assemblies of modern times. The great numbers and high social standing of those in attendance arrested the attention and commanded the respect of the continent. The program was high in character and wide in scope. The Sunday school exhibit, including literature, properties, furniture, and devices, has never been equaled. "World View" was the note of the convention. It looked beyond the boundary of country, race, or sect. This "World Vision" was watched by the spirit of "World Service."

AGRICULTURAL CHEMISTRY.
State Chemist Writes Book on Theme Unusual.
College Station, Oct. 4.—"Principles of Agricultural Chemistry" is the title of a new book which has been published by Dr. G. S. Fraps, state chemist and chemist to the experiment station at the A. and M. college. For many years Dr. Fraps was professor of agricultural chemistry at the college, but gave this work up when his duties at the experiment station and as state chemist became so heavy. In producing this book Dr. Fraps has invaded a new field in chemical publications. His is the first American book to enter into a full discussion of the principles of agricultural chemistry. This book contains 423 pages of facts and figures of interest to farmers and those who expect to make a livelihood from the soil. Various elements of the soil are taken up and their value thoroughly discussed. Soil building, distribution of roots, are dealt with, also, in such terms as may be readily understood by the farmer. An especially commendable feature is the discussion of the principles of animal nutrition, composition of feeds, composition of the animal body, and a new method of calculating rations for feeding farm animals.

Dr. Fraps is president of the American National Official Chemists association.

Suffragettes Burn House.
London, Oct. 4.—Militant suffragettes this morning set fire to a large unoccupied riverside house at Hampton on Thames, a few miles above London. Two women were arrested on suspicion. A large quantity of suffrage literature was found strown about the grounds.

SICK HEADACHE, COSTIVE, BILIOUS, IF LIVER IS TORPID--DIME A BOX

You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy stomach.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets—or merely dosing yourself every few days with salts, pills, castor oil and other harsh irritants? Cascarets immediately cleanse and sweeten the stomach, remove the sour undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight straightens you out by morning—a 10-cent box keeps your head clear, stomach sweet, liver and bowels regular and you feel buoyant for months. Don't forget the children.

THE FITTING OF GLASSES

Not a Mercantile Proposition, Says Dr. W. B. Georgia.
Frontal Headache, Dizziness, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Neuralgia in the Temples, Pains in the Back of the Head Are Often Due to Eyestrain—Glasses the Only Remedy.

The scientific fitting of glasses can not be conducted on a mercantile basis, for the reason that it requires something more than a mere pair of glasses of the most ordinary make to correct eye errors, which cause frontal headache, dizziness, dyspepsia, indigestion, nervousness, neuralgia, in the temples, pains in the back of the head, extending down into the shoulders and spine. The specialist who takes cases of this kind must not only know how to prescribe the proper lenses, but he must know how to adjust the frame and advise the wearing of glasses and the changing of lenses when changes are necessary. At this is very essential, and for this reason the optometrist (eyesight specialist) is the proper person to consult when in need of glasses. Dr. Georgia has prescribed glasses for over ten thousand people in Waco and McLennan county. Many city officials, college professors, school teachers, ministers, bankers, physicians, dentists, editors, dressmakers have had their eyes examined and glasses prescribed by this specialist, and all stand ready and willing to recommend his work in the highest terms.

If you are suffering with errors of the eye, headache, etc., as mentioned above, have Dr. W. B. Georgia prescribe your lenses and your trouble will be a thing of the past. Besides getting the desired relief, you will find that his charges for good and reliable services are most reasonable. Look for the big spectacle sign—Dr. W. B. WOMEN BRAVE RAIN AND MUD

HOLD BIG MASS MEETING IN INTEREST OF THE COTTON PALACE.

FEMININE ENTHUSIASM IS HIGH

Woman's Day Parade Will Be Held in the Afternoon—Mrs. F. J. Lennox Presides.

A very enthusiastic gathering of the women of Waco greeted Mrs. F. J. Lennox when she called to order yesterday afternoon the women's mass meeting at 4 o'clock in the Cotton Palace coliseum. It was an assemblage of those who had braved the mud after a regular torrential down-pour and it argued strongly for success for Woman's day at the Cotton Palace on Saturday, November 8.

Mrs. Lennox presided in a gracious way and much important business was transacted. In opening Mrs. Lennox said: "Ladies, we are here to receive reports as to progress already made on the details as to Woman's day and to hear from any one who has any suggestions to offer for the good of the day."

Parade in Afternoon.
 Various speakers advanced some splendid ideas and after a full discussion it was decided to have the Woman's Day parade in the afternoon, beginning promptly at 2 o'clock, going to the Cotton Palace, into the grounds and through the same so that the multitudes there could also view the pageant.

Mrs. F. B. Robinson was named as a committee of one to write to the out-of-town clubs with reference to participation in the parade, and another committee will be named to secure private vehicles of any one from out of the city who wishes to help glorify Woman's day.

25 Marshals in Petticoats.
 Mrs. Lennox reported that twenty-five young married ladies had already volunteered to act as marshals, and a grand marshal will be selected. The attractiveness of this feature will add materially to the entire plan for a fitting celebration of the day.

Mrs. J. W. Bass, in addressing the meeting, stated that only beautifully decorated autos and teams would be entitled to entrance in the parade, and she hoped that every woman would spend a little money, a little time and a little thought in preparing something that would be a credit to womanhood; that the tremendous crowd that would be in the city on Woman's day would be looking for a parade of beauty.

No Injury to Machines.
 Mrs. Dr. H. M. Lanham stated that it should be impressed upon automobile owners that the machines would not be harmed in the least by the decoration thereof. It is not necessary to use tacks or nails or anything to disfigure the cars in the least. Mrs. Bass said that she decorated her car one year by sewing the flowers on cloth and then placing the cloth over the fenders, the top and around the axles and other parts of the machine, without marring it in the slightest.

Beauty Embowered in Blossoms.
 The entire trend of the talks was that it will be a marvelously beautiful pageantry of pretty girls, lovely women and flowers, with every woman of Waco and women of the surrounding towns cordially invited to participate by entering handsomely decorated vehicles. It was suggested that the surrounding points could receive a great deal of publicity and favorable comment by having cars in this parade, as it will be perhaps the best point of attendance of any day and probably in magnificence, if the ladies carry out their plans. And from all indications, they will.

Should Be Five Miles Long.
 There are over 2,000 automobiles in McLennan county, proportionately in other counties, so that it would seem that instead of a parade of womanly and floral beauty two miles in length, it will be five miles long, and graced by women in the various walks of life, as it is not a woman's club celebration, but an affair for all women.

A post card day, or publicity committee from among the women of Waco, will be named, whose duty it will be to send out and get others to send out at least a half dozen postal cards to as many friends on some particular day, to be named, boosting the stunt, setting forth the events of the day, the program in full and extending a cordial invitation to view the splendor of it all.

The Children's Brigade.
 Mrs. J. C. Lattimore was unanimously chosen as director in charge of the children's brigade for the Woman's day parade, and the ladies of one accord agreed that this feature would be splendidly arranged. It is proposed to introduce some innovations in this regard and the thousands along the line of march will be indeed charmed.

The meeting adjourned, subject to call of Mrs. Lennox to gather at an early date and close up further details. After the meeting the ladies present were treated to a day fireworks display on the grounds by a representative of a concern introducing this novelty.

Woman's Day Parade Will Be Held in the Afternoon—Mrs. F. J. Lennox Presides.

A very enthusiastic gathering of the women of Waco greeted Mrs. F. J. Lennox when she called to order yesterday afternoon the women's mass meeting at 4 o'clock in the Cotton Palace coliseum. It was an assemblage of those who had braved the mud after a regular torrential down-pour and it argued strongly for success for Woman's day at the Cotton Palace on Saturday, November 8.

Mrs. Lennox presided in a gracious way and much important business was transacted. In opening Mrs. Lennox said: "Ladies, we are here to receive reports as to progress already made on the details as to Woman's day and to hear from any one who has any suggestions to offer for the good of the day."

Parade in Afternoon.
 Various speakers advanced some splendid ideas and after a full discussion it was decided to have the Woman's Day parade in the afternoon, beginning promptly at 2 o'clock, going to the Cotton Palace, into the grounds and through the same so that the multitudes there could also view the pageant.

Mrs. F. B. Robinson was named as a committee of one to write to the out-of-town clubs with reference to participation in the parade, and another committee will be named to secure private vehicles of any one from out of the city who wishes to help glorify Woman's day.

able to survive, and of all the holidays of the Jewish calendar it has most completely held its own in the hearts and observance of the Jewish people. Emphasis was laid upon confession, penitence, prayer and good deeds. It became the day of "afflicting one's soul" (Leviticus xix, 3-5), which was interpreted as meaning fasting from the eve of Atonement until the following evening. As in the Biblical ceremonial, confession continues to be an important feature of the service; yet, while confession brings forgiveness of sins between man and his Maker, sins between man and man are not forgiven until redress is made for the injury. The eve of Atonement is the day when the Jews observe the cessation of feuds and ill-will. And the Day of Atonement is known as the Sabbath of Sabbaths—when we are at peace with all the world.

The service of the Day of Atonement beginning with K'l Nidre service on the eve of Atonement is a continuous one throughout the entire day. The prayers in the synagogue are intoned in plaintive penitential tones. The spirit of the masterly sermon of Isaiah (lx, lvi, 4-9), which is the prophetic portion of the morning's reading, is manifested throughout.

Proper observance of the holy day will be had in Waco. At the Temple Rodef Sholem, Rabbi I. Warsaw will have services Friday night at 7 o'clock and Saturday the services will be from 10:30 a. m. until 6 p. m.

Central Texas will be ably represented in the national gathering of funeral directors and embalmers, which is to be held in Milwaukee, Wis., this week. Layton C. Puckett of Waco, who is a member of the Texas State Board of Embalmers, will leave for the convention city over the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway today.

With George W. Lendermilk of Dallas and C. N. Humerson of Lufkin, Mr. Puckett will attend the sessions of the Texas State Board of Embalmers, which is a divisional section of the convention of the National Funeral Directors' association.

Undertakers from all parts of the United States will be present at the convention. The sessions open Oct. 8 and close on the evening of Oct. 10. The funeral directors and embalmers will discuss many subjects pertaining to their business, including the most recent inventions and improvements relating to embalming and funeral matters.

PAUL QUINN TO OPEN

NEGRO COLLEGE AT WACO WILL BEGIN SESSION TUESDAY.

Useful Trades Are Taught the Youth of the State—Bishop To Be Here.

The thirty-third opening of Paul Quinn college will occur Tuesday, at the time of the beginning of the fall term.

Paul Quinn college is under negro management and is for the negro youths of the state.

Paul Quinn college, established and chartered in 1881, is situated on the east side of the Brazos river, about one mile from the main business center of the city. It sits in a lot of twenty acres of fertile land, with a sufficient elevation above the greater portion of the city to render it dry and beautiful.

The following departments are maintained:—

Industrial—Agriculture, printing, carpentry, housekeeping, plain sewing, dressmaking, cooking and millinery.

Business—Bookkeeping, stenography, shorthand, and typewriting.

Art—Drawing, painting, designing, etc.

A primary department or practice school, extending through four grades, will be carefully operated for the benefit of those who are taking the normal course.

I. M. Burkan, D. D., L. L. D., is president of the college. At the opening Tuesday it is planned to have a fall rally. Bishop C. S. Smith, D. D., of Detroit, has inaugurated his rally and the minister and people have worked faithfully to assure success. Many visitors are expected at the opening.

Mr. Railroad Man, visit the Amicable Pool Parlor, 429 Austin street. You are welcome.

Blue Bonnet Lodge Delegate.
 Temple, Oct. 4.—Mrs. Nora Cheney of this city has been elected a delegate from Blue Bonnet lodge to represent the latter at the annual convention of the ladies auxiliary of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, which will be in session during the coming week at Chattanooga, Tenn., and departed today to attend the sessions of same.

EAT NEW BREAD, CABBAGE, SAUSAGE, AND DIGEST IT. "PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN"

NO INDIGESTION, NO SOUR, GASSY STOMACH OR DYSPEPSIA. TRY IT!

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly; ferment into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Diapepsin, let this down. Pape's Diapepsin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered, you get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear. Most remedies give relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. Diapepsin is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back.

You feel different as soon as Pape's Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eructations of undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine.

Put an end to stomach trouble by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.

Wanted!

Perfectly healthy men and women who will voluntarily submit to an experiment which may lead to temporary or permanent impairment of health, or possible death.

This experiment to be conducted with the coffee drug, "caffeine."

Would You

Apply for the Job?

Thousands are trying the experiment every day in spite of the fact that physicians and government experts have proven:

That the average cup of coffee contains about 2 1-2 grs. of caffeine;

That caffeine is attributed to be one of the principal causes of headache, biliousness, heart disease, indigestion and kidney, liver and bowel trouble;

That caffeine in doses as small as that contained in two average cups of coffee has killed rabbits, guinea pigs and other animals at the laboratories of the Government in Washington and elsewhere.

To be sure a guinea pig or a rabbit may weigh but a pound or two, while the average human may weigh 100 times as much.

A few cups of coffee or a single cup (according to the resistance of the individual) will not kill, but the poison is there and can be added to day by day.

That's why so many coffee drinkers suffer from headache, dizziness, indigestion and other symptoms referable to the poison effect on heart, liver, nerves, kidneys and stomach.

If you know coffee has no bad effect in your particular case and you like it, why, bless your heart, stick to it, but if coffee drinking leaves its tell-tale mark by some symptoms of physical discomfort or peace of mind, it's a good idea to stop and use

POSTUM

This pure food-beverage, made of prime wheat and the juice of southern sugarcane, makes a rich, seal-brown blend, turning to golden-brown when cream is added, which tastes much like real Oriental Java but is absolutely free from the coffee drug "caffeine."

Postum comes in two forms. One, called Regular Postum, must be boiled full 15 minutes.

The other, Instant Postum, is in powder form and a level teaspoonful in a cup of hot water makes the beverage instantly. Grocers keep both kinds.

Temple Water Works Is Financial Success

Temple, Oct. 4.—A committee from the city council of Marlin paid Temple a visit this week and made a thorough inspection of the municipal water works plant and especially the $20,000 filtration system in operation which has been in service about two years. The committee was so pleased with the latter that it unhesitatingly recommended a duplication of the plant at Marlin.

The Temple filter was the first mechanical gravity proposition installed in Texas and has proved to be a great success, a recent thorough test of the works in the rainy season showing a result of 99 per cent pure. The water-works is the property of the city and is managed by a board of water commissioners, six prominent and successful business men who serve without salary. The filtration plant was built from the earnings of the plant without recourse to a bond issue and during the time the city has owned it, the commissioners have spent $20,000 additional out of earnings in extending and improving the same.

Temple Purchases Sewerage System

Temple, Oct. 4.—Preparations are being made by the city of Temple to take over the plant of the Temple Sanitary Sewer company, which the voters decided to buy at a price of $43,500, in an election some months ago. A bond issue of $75,000 has been sold and what remains after paying the purchase price will be applied to enlarging, improving and extending the sewer plant. It is estimated that the city will formally take possession on December 1, 1913, or January 1, 1914.

SCHOOL BOARD'S BUSY SESSION

MANUAL TRAINING TEACHER IS ELECTED AT A SALARY OF $90.

NEW FIXTURES ARE ORDERED

Crowded Conditions at North Fourth Street School to Be Relieved. Superintendent's Report.

The school board met in called session Friday afternoon at Mr. Brazelton's office at 4 o'clock. There were present Vice President W. B. Morrison, in the chair; S. H. Smith, W. E. Darden, K. H. Ayneworth, N. A. Olive, W. H. Brazelton, Superintendent, J. C. Lattimore and Clerk E. H. Vaden.

The superintendent presented the following report and recommendations:

"Waco, Tex., Oct. 3, 1913.
"To the Honorable Board of Trustees, Waco, Tex.: Gentlemen—I have with me for your consideration the following report and recommendations:

"The treasurer's bond is herewith submitted for your approval.
"Our opening on Monday, September 22, was nearly 500 larger than last year. Thus far very satisfactory disposition of all pupils has been made, excepting at South Eighth street, where the numbers per teacher have already reached more than forty. recommend the employment of an additional teacher at this building. Thus far the ungraded teacher has been rendering assistance there and can do so for a short time longer.

To Relieve Congestion.
"In the North Fourth Street school we have one room badly crowded, but I expect, at the beginning of next week, to transfer several children from this room to the Columbus Street school, which will afford us the needed relief at North Fourth street.

"The fact that the North Waco building was not completed necessitated our putting the first to fourth grades on half day sessions. The fifth grade continues all day. This arrangement is working very satisfactory and with your approval will be continued until we can get into the new building.

More Teachers Needed.
"The high school numbers 110 more than at this time last year. At present the situation is well in hand, but we shall need more teachers at the beginning of the spring term.

"It is very evident that it will be necessary to add a number of rooms to the high school building before another session and I recommend that your committee on property and repairs be instructed to get up the necessary data upon which to base a request for another bond issue to provide for the addition to the high school and also additions to some of the ward buildings.

Manual Training.
"In the manual training department of the high school there is demand for seven periods per day, the two instructors in this department cannot at the present time teach more than two classes. I recommend that you elect an additional teacher for this department. After considerable correspondence I am ready to recommend C. D. Cook of Pittsburg, Kan., for this position at a salary of $90 per month for the present year.

"In order to handle economically the class in manual training we need the following additional equipment and I recommend that you authorize the purchase of the same at once.

Domestic Science.
"In the domestic science department we need six additional cutting systems, amounting to about $18. The present burners used in the cooking room are of the old-fashioned type and I recommend that we replace them with new burners of the type installed at the Central building last year.

"Miss Hyton is very anxious for another teacher in domestic science. This would enable the seventh grade girls at the Central to have two lessons a week in cooking instead of one, and the sixth grade girls to have two lessons in sewing instead of one a week, also enable her to start sewing in the low sixth grade in the various ward buildings.

"For dark days we are greatly in need of the light fixtures in the domestic science rooms and the study halls and I recommend that the same be installed at once.

"The night school should begin in a few more weeks. We can start with three teachers and increase the number if necessary. I recommend that the superintendent and principal select the teachers for the night school and submit the same to the committee on teachers for their approval.

"The $1,000 bond has not yet been sold. I recommend that you appoint a committee to see to the sale of this bond as we are in need of the money.

More Insurance Needed.
"We need to place additional insurance on several of the buildings at once. I understand that the distribution heretofore made has not been satisfactory to several of the fire insurance men and I suggest that your committee on property and repairs advise us how to proceed in the placing of this new insurance.

"I herewith submit a petition signed by about eighty citizens of East Waco, asking that the East Waco school be named for the late Captain J. T. Strain.

"Does the school board wish to have all of the buildings fumigated during the holidays, as was done last year? As there has been some discussion on the subject of free vaccination I recommend that you take immediate action on this subject or appoint a committee to report at an early date.

Respectfully,
J. C. LATTIMORE,
Superintendent.

An Additional Teacher.
The board authorized the employment of an additional teacher at South Eighth street school.
The board appointed K. H. Ayneworth, W. E. Darden, and W. B. Morrison as a committee on general survey of school conditions with instructions to take into consideration several items in the superintendent's report and such other matters as in their judgment needed to be investigated and reported on. Their instructions included the need of more buildings, the need of additional teaching force, the need of enlargement of domestic science work, and the advisability of issuing a grammar school diploma. The board elected C. D. Cook, of

The Magic Word.

Attorney Ephraim Lipschultz recently had a client who was to come up for a hearing before Magistrate Gallagher.

"What is your name?" asked Mr. Lipschultz of his client when the latter came to him with the case.

"James P. O'Brode," was the reply.

"What is your middle name?" "Patrick."

"Well, now, when Magistrate Gallagher asks your name, say 'James Patrick O'Brode,' and don't forget the Patrick."

"Sure I won't," promised the client.

When O'Brode was arraigned and Magistrate Gallagher asked the first question, "What is your name?" the prisoner said in stentorian tones, "James Patrick O'Brode, and don't forget the Patrick."

He was discharged.

GIRLS! GIRLS! YOU MUST TRY THIS! DOUBLES BEAUTY OF YOUR HAIR

FOR 25 CENTS YOU CAN MAKE YOUR HAIR LUSTROUS, FLUFFY AND ABUNDANT.

Immediate?—Yes! Certain?—That's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a Danderine hair cleanse. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff, cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and just try it.

Pittsburg, Kansas, as assistant in manual training at a salary of $90 per month.
The board authorized the purchasing of additional work benches, lathes, and drawing benches for the manual training department, also six additional cutting systems for the domestic science department.
The board authorized additional light fixtures in the study hall and domestic science rooms at the high school.

The superintendent and principal were authorized to purchase needed lockers and something to deaden the noise in the gallery of the upper study hall.

Mr. Brazelton was instructed to see to the sale of the mutilated $1,000 bond still unsold.

The committee on property and repairs was instructed to make arrangements for the proper distribution of the additional insurance.

Will Fumigate Buildings.
It was ordered that all school buildings should be fumigated during the holidays.

Dr. Ferrell was present and made a verbal report regarding sanitary matters and hygienic conditions in general. Upon his recommendation the board ordered that the school physician should vaccinate free of charge all school children wishing such vaccination, the school board paying for the necessary vaccine. Dr. Ferrell's salary was placed at $10 per month.

Night School Opens October 20.
The superintendent was instructed to request the proper authorities to notify the school physician of all contagious diseases that might affect the schools.

It was ordered that the night school begin October 20.
The treasurer's bond for the current school year was approved.

the current school year the board, on the basis of $25,000,000 assessed values, fixed the school tax rate at 42 cents.
A petition, with quite a large number of signatures, was received, asking that the board name the East Waco school for the late Captain J. T. Strain, who for so many years was principal of that school. After some informal discussion of the matter it was passed without official action.

YIELD OF GAS IS ABUNDANT

So Says A. E. Wilder, Who is Interested in the Stough Gas Franchise.

George W. Stough, named as the principal in the franchise to be granted by the city for the piping of natural gas into Waco from the Mexico field, will be in position to fulfill the provisions of the contract and to furnish Waco all the gas the city will require, according to A. E. Wilder, who is associated with Mr. Stough. Mr. Wilder, who resides at Mexia, stated Friday night that a new gas well having a flow of 20,000,000 cubic feet per twenty-four hours had just been brought in on property controlled under lease by the men associated with Mr. Stough.

It is understood that Stough and associates control an area of land in the Mexia field consisting of about 2,200 acres.

Field Has Been Proved.
They consider the field a proven one, and that there will be no question but that the supply of gas they can control will be sufficient to supply all the wants of Waco for all purposes.

To Mayor James H. Mackey Mr. Wilder stated that he had heard from Mr. Stough and that he expected him in Waco and Mexia October 8. He said when Mr. Stough did arrive he would be in position to begin work on the pipe line.

The franchise granting to Stough, Wilder and associates privilege of using the streets of Waco for laying and maintaining pipe for natural gas will come up for its last reading at the Tuesday's meeting of the commission. It was published for the last time yesterday. At present there seems little in the way of its final passage.

Mission Services Today.
Talks along practical lines will be given by several well informed speakers at the Downtown mission this afternoon. Services will begin at 2 o'clock. Short addresses will be in order and all will be asked to speak. At the last meeting pledges of support were volunteered and a big meeting is expected.

Three Ideas of Nothing.

In an Irish school not long ago, a school teacher asked a class to define "Nothing." He wrote the question on the blackboard, and did so quickly and rather carelessly. A little red-headed fellow's hand shot up.

"Well, Thady, what is nothing?" said the teacher. "You may tell us." "It's the dot on the I ye've just forgotten to make, sor!" was the triumphant reply.

An equally good definition was that of the lad who declared that nothing was a footless stocking without a leg. He, too, was Irish. Less imaginative, but no less convincing, was the mercenary definition given by a canny "chiel" in Scotland.

"It's when a man asks ye to hold his horse," he explained ruefully, "and then just says 'Thank ye!'"

My Cleansing, Healing Balm Instantly Clears Nose, Head and Throat—Stops Nasty Catarrhal Discharges. Dulls Headache Goes.
Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone. End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake tonight struggling for breath, with head stuffed, nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucus dropping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.

A Remarkable Gift.

"A sense of humor is a fine possession. With some men, however, it goes to extremes—to ghastly extremes."

The scene was the Economic Club's dinner at the Hotel Astor in New York. The speaker, Mayor Hunt of Cincinnati, continued:

"I used to know in Horace Annesley a man with this excessive sense of humor. Horace said to me one morning, with a ghastly laugh:

"I've got the greatest joke to tell you!"

"Well, what is it?" said I. "You know," said Horace, "that I was examined and passed for life insurance last week? Well—ha, ha, ha!—I've been to consult a specialist this morning and he tells me I've got an incurable disease. He gives me just one year. Ha, ha, ha!"

It is customary for a man with more dollars than sense to accumulate popularity.

Dreams of Beauty Come True

Don't Despair Because of Pimples or Blackheads—Stuart's Calcium Wafers Will Cure the Worst Case Within a Week.

All your dreams of a beautiful, clear complexion can be made to come true. It makes no difference how spotted and disfigured your face may be with pimples, blackheads, eczema or liver-spots, you may reclaim your heritage of good looks. There are thousands of people today whose fresh, clear faces are a living proof that Stuart's Calcium Wafers do cure pimples and cure them to stay. A few months ago their faces were perhaps in even worse condition than yours—yet in the course of a week, at the most, they had the supreme satisfaction of finding every pimple gone.

"Stuart's Calcium Wafers Will Bring That Dream of Beauty Out of the Clouds and Make It Real for You."

You can have a similar good fortune this very week—you can wake up tomorrow to find your face beginning to clear up—and from day to day you can almost see the pimples go—so rapidly do they disappear. People will hardly be able to believe the change unless they have known of similar wonderful transformations due to Stuart's Calcium Wafers. If it had not been so frequently proved, it would seem almost impossible to cure pimples of so long standing in the few days necessary with Stuart's Calcium Wafers.

Stuart's Calcium Wafers cure pimples and similar eruptions by thoroughly cleansing the blood of all impurities. With a pure blood supply, it is simply impossible for a pimple to remain on your face. And the invigorated blood will replace your dead, yellow skin with the delicate, glowing colors of a perfect complexion.

Don't delay a measure so important to your happiness. Your self-respect demands that you avail yourself of this remedy that thousands have proved before you. Get a 50c box of Stuart's Calcium Wafers of your druggist today. Make your dream of beauty come true.

FORECAST OF NEW BUDGET

COST OF MAINTENANCE IN DEPARTMENTS GROWS WITH THE CITY.

NEED $62,000 FOR STREETS

Commissioner Foster Asks for the Largest Single Appropriation—May Complete Budget in a Week.

Keeping pace with the growth of the city and in conformity with the need for enforcing the regulations and maintaining the improvements which naturally follow such growth, the three important departments of the municipal government—the fire and police, the sanitary and the street departments, will require a greater amount of money for the ensuing fiscal year than was allotted to these several departments for the year passed. For two weeks the heads of these departments, the commissioner in charge of each, has been assembling data upon which to base an estimate of the amount of money necessary to maintain his department for the fiscal year just issuing. Some two or three weeks ago Finance Commissioner T. A. Caulfield called upon each commissioner to be ready to submit an estimate of what amount his department would require, immediately upon the adjournment of the city board of equalization.

Caulfield to Make Draft. The board will probably complete its labors within a week. Soon after Mr. Caulfield, as finance commissioner, will prepare the city budget and present it to the commission. In response to Mr. Caulfield's request the commissioners have prepared and are ready to submit at the proper time the amounts they will require to maintain their departments. In each instance an increased amount is asked, except in that of the fire department. A large part of the appropriation for that department last year was used in repairs for fire stations, which expense will not have to be incurred this year, and as a result a slight reduction is noted in the amount needed by that department.

$62,000 for Streets. Of the three important departments the street department, under the direction of Commissioner John W. Foster, will ask for the largest single appropriation. Mr. Foster has estimated and will ask that $62,000 be set aside for the maintenance of that department together with the engineering department for the year. He also asks for an appropriation of $5,000, which was voted by the commission, for the purpose of compiling a contour topographical map of the sewer system. This map was deemed necessary as a basis from which to work in the installation of a sewage disposal plant, which the city will be compelled to construct within a year or so. Last year the street department had an appropriation of $55,000 for maintenance and an appropriation of $2,000 for the engineer's department. This year the two are combined in one appropriation and an increase of $4,000 asked, besides an appropriation of $5,000 for maps. Mr. Foster has figured in his estimate the maintenance of streets, the pay of all city street men, the salaries of the city engineering force and all other expenses in connection with the department.

Sanitary Department Needs. Commissioner J. A. Littlefield, who has charge of the sanitary department, will also require a larger appropriation. Under this department both the sprinkling of streets and the operation of garbage and sanitary wagons is included. For the year Mr. Littlefield will request an appropriation of $24,680 for the sanitary department and $24,400 for the sprinkling department, or a total of $49,080. Last year $22,540 was spent by the sanitary and $17,878 by the sprinkling department, or a total of $40,418. The increase for the next year will be necessary for the reason that the city commission has authorized the sanitary commissioner to widen the scope of the city where sprinkling is done, and also to add four additional sprinkling wagons and an additional garbage wagon. In making his request for an increase over last year Mr. Littlefield has figured out the cost of practically every item to be reckoned with. This amount includes the cost of purchase of the five wagons and a team and the salaries of the men employed in the department. Mr. Littlefield estimates the cost of four additional sprinkling wagons at $1,400, and he estimates, figuring on a basis of the cost of operating the wagons for the year closing, that it will cost approximately $23,000 to operate the eighteen wagons, which number the four additional wagons put into service. This will make a total of $24,400 needed by the sprinkling department.

Will Have Eighteen Sprinklers. In making his estimate for the amount needed by the sanitary department Mr. Littlefield has figured in $200 for a new two-horse sanitary garbage wagon, $1,400 for the pay of two men to work on the wagon during the year and $100 for a span of mules to be purchased to use in the wagon. This makes a total of $2,100 additional expense over last year that will have to be met. Last year the department used $22,540 and the additional $2,100 will make a total of $24,680 required by the department for this year, which amount Mr. Littlefield will request.

When the new wagons and teams are purchased the sprinkling department will have in operation eighteen sprinklers, and the sanitary department will have in operation eight garbage wagons, seven singles and one double wagon, and ten trash wagons, six single and one double wagon.

Mr. Littlefield said yesterday: "Every time a paved street is put down that street increases the work of the trash wagons, so we have to keep adding."

The Police Department. Commissioner John Dollins will ask for approximately $42,500 for the police department this year, and will ask for $5,000 for the fire department. Last year the police department was given $35,500. Three additional patrolmen have been added since that time. The fire department was given $5,000 last year. A decrease is shown in the estimate of this department this year, as a great part of last year's appropriation went into repairs to various fire stations. The city electrician's department, which is also under Mr. Dollins, will

Inoculation Is Preventive Against Spread of Typhoid

Vaccination for typhoid has been successfully used in the army and navy and has the approval of medical authorities generally. Vaccination for smallpox is required of all children who enter public schools, and it has been proposed that a typhoid vaccination might be similarly required.

Favored by Lederle. Immunization is regarded by Health Commissioner Lederle of New York city as of very great importance. Upon its acceptance, along with greater facilities for inspecting milk, water and food, he bases the hope that there may be a constantly decreasing number of typhoid cases. Revising the work that has been done in the campaign against typhoid he said:

"The outlook is very hopeful, not only on account of the larger permanent staff of investigators, but also on account of the introduction of anti-typhoid immunization or vaccination. If, as held by most authorities, more than 10 per cent of the cases in New York city are due to contact with other cases, and if the medical profession and the public avail themselves of the offer to provide vaccine or to perform immunization free of charge, figures even lower may not unreasonably be anticipated."

The causes of typhoid fever in New York city, said Dr. Lederle, "are four in number: infected milk, direct contact with other cases, infected food and infected water, the last mentioned operating for the most part by the infection of country districts of residents, who, during the summer, seek the country for their health."

Tuberculosis, typhoid fever, scarlet fever, diphtheria and tonsillitis are the principal diseases which in this country are transmitted by means of infected milk. The typhoid bacilli in milk, according to Dr. Lederle, are always derived from man.

Value Proved by Government. The United States government makes vaccination against typhoid compulsory in the army and navy. Every young man who enters West Point or Annapolis must submit to vaccination and the results throughout the country have justified the requirement. The ordinary soldier and sailor is inoculated before he gets a chance to get into his fighting togs.

It is said at Governors Island, New York, that the required system of inoculation is very thorough. Just as soon as the recruit arrives at the station he is inoculated with anti-typhoid serum. After ten days he is given another dose, heavier than the first, and ten days later he gets a third, which is heavier still. This method is followed in order to give the man's system a chance to accommodate itself to the reaction of the serum.

Effects Seen in Field. The effectiveness of this wholesale immunization was seen during the army maneuvers in Texas three years ago, when thousands of soldiers from all sections of the country were brought together. According to the authorities at Governors Island very few cases of typhoid developed, and these were in men who had escaped inoculation. Typhoid is an unknown disease at Governors Island.

FIND DEAD MAN ON FARM

Corpses of Unidentified Mexican Lay Undiscovered for a Month.

The body of a Mexican, which had apparently lain in the open for over a month, was found on a farm owned by M. L. Westbrook, a mile and a half beyond the Falls county line, Friday. The body was in such a condition that identification was impossible. The only way that it was ascertained that he was a Mexican was by his hair. A belt tied with a string was the only property found on him which could afford any clue to his identity.

His Death a Mystery.

Officers from Chilton came over to view the body, and after holding an inquest, ordered the body buried, having found nothing to indicate who the man was, or how his death was brought about. It was stated by persons living in the vicinity that over a month ago a Mexican passed through that part of the country, apparently seriously ill. He was last seen in the neighborhood of the spot where the body was found, and it is possible that his death was brought about here from the illness with which he was suffering.

Grocers vs. Peddlers.

Why is the peddling system as practiced unfair to the grocery business? We consider them unfair competition for the following reasons:

1. There is no regulation governing their weights and measures.
2. A large per cent of them live outside the city limits.
3. While some of them are as good people as there is in the world some have little idea of business.
4. Cities are built and maintained by certain public utilities—peddlers pay little to maintain these enterprises.

First we have the waterworks plant, which pays to employees and for repairs each month hundreds of dollars. The peddler pays little to this enterprise.

Second, we have the light plant. This company also pays hundreds of dollars each month to its employees and for repairs. How much does the peddler pay to this enterprise?

Third, there is the gas plant, which pays large sums each month to its employees and for repairs. What does the peddler contribute to this enterprise?

Fourth, the telephone system, which is an absolute essential to the building of a city. How many peddlers have a telephone for business purposes?

Fifth, how many grocersmen are there in Waco who pay rent? This is essential to the maintenance of a city. How many peddlers pay store rent?

Sixth, our streets are one of the most essential features of a city and of city building. Does the peddler contribute to the maintenance of our streets?

We are not after the peddlers' business. We have a good business and we appreciate it. But we ask for a square deal. We would advocate a market house. We don't care if you stop the grocer from selling vegetables; all we ask is a square deal.—Advertisement.

Police Hold Negro.

Garfield Houston, a negro, was arrested in Reese's store on Elm street Friday night, and locked up in the city jail on a charge of burglary. Houston was discovered in the store by passers-by, late Friday night, and officers Buchanan and James were sent after him. The cash drawer was found robbed of its contents, $11 in silver, which was found hidden in a corner of the building. Houston claimed that he was locked in the store by the clerks when they left, and that he was unable to get out until the officers came.

Police Pow-Wow Tonight.

Tonight the police of the city will meet in what is called an "efficiency conference." The purpose of the meeting is to get the members of the force better acquainted with each other, and to promote an interchange of opinion in regard to best methods of enforcing the city ordinances. In addition to the conference of the officers, there will be a number of speeches and lectures by the chief of police, the police commissioner, the mayor, and other speakers.

Charter Committee.

Colonel A. R. McCollum, chairman of the committee to prepare the new city charter, stated yesterday that the meeting of the committee tomorrow in the Chamber of Commerce rooms would be a very important one, and that the full committee was urged to be present.

Cotton Modeling Department of Cotton Palace Offering Substantial Cash Prizes, Open to All.

Mrs. John B. Cooper, chairman of the Cotton Modeling Division of the Texas Cotton Palace, Waco, has secured a fund of over one hundred dollars, which has been divided into substantial cash prizes to be awarded for the best exhibits of models in cotton. The first prizes amount to $15, the second prizes to $10, and third prizes of $5; fourth $2.50. Every school girl and boy should think seriously of competing for this money, as it will mean quite a neat little sum to the winners, for their school day needs and pleasures. Mrs. Cooper will be pleased to give any desired information. There are many most interesting subjects of which models in the fleecy staple can be made. These models will be on exhibit during the Texas Cotton Palace November 10 to 16, and will form one of the most pleasing features of the great 1913 exposition.—Advertisement.

WACO'S HOT WELL

HEALING WATERS MAKE CITY A NATURAL HEALTH RESORT.

Prominent Physicians Respond to Request of Y. M. B. L. President for Expert Opinions.

The matter of a hot well sanitarium and bath house, which has been discussed at odd times by Waco boosters for the past few years, is receiving serious attention from the Young Men's Business league at present, and if sufficient interest is shown by the business men of the city, the matter will be taken up and pushed through to completion.

W. V. Crawford, president of the Y. M. B. L., interviewed a number of prominent physicians of the city yesterday to get the view of the medical profession in regard to the salt, sodium, and their opinions are given below:

Dr. K. H. Aynesworth. "In regard to the hot well proposition and the establishment of a hot well sanitarium in Waco, I believe it would be a success financially if properly managed and of the greatest benefit to large classes of people who are suffering and in need of that kind of treatment."

"The chemical ingredients of the water are as beneficial as any other waters of the state and the temperature is such that the water can be used as it practically comes from the well. There is no need of a greater temperature than of this water, for if it were higher it would have to be cooled and reheated, which is an expensive process."

"Without question the commercial interest of Waco are overlooking a wonderful advertising feature for the town. The establishment of such an institution in Waco would be the means of securing reduced rates on all railroads from the North and East the year round."

"It seems to me that Waco is morally bound to make use of the wonderful waters she has here for the good of humanity."

Dr. H. C. Black.

"My idea is to make Waco a health resort. It is well known all over the world that baths in natural hot water, such as found at Hot Springs, Ark., Marlin, Tex., and Waco, Tex., thousands of afflicted people to normal health. What has been done at Hot Springs and Marlin and Topo Chico Hot Springs in Mexico can be done by Waco hot waters. The mineral waters at Dr. Smith's wells in Waco have already done much for people with troubles of indigestion and also rheumatism."

"In my opinion these waters are destined to become famous for medicinal virtues. Waco has slept on her natural rights—a city of culture, of wonderful natural beauty. With our hot waters, mineral waters, hotel accommodations, and so many other attractions, Waco should become one of the most popular health resorts in the South. Quicken sabers."

Dr. G. B. Foscoe.

"I should think that a first class sanitarium with bath house connected or adjacent to same would be a very valuable asset to Waco and probably pay dividends to owners, provided the plant is strictly up to date in every respect. Such an institution would probably cost $250,000 to build and properly equip. It should be in or very near the business portion of the city."

THE STATE OF TEXAS. To the Sheriff or Any Constable of McLennan County—Greeting:

Mrs. V. D. Hardwick, formerly Mrs. V. D. Graves, guardian of the estate of Zoe Inez Graves, W. D. Graves and Alice Graves, minors, has filed in the county court of McLennan county, Texas, her account for final settlement of said estate, which will be acted on at the November term, 1913, of said court.

Therefore, you are hereby commanded that by publication of this writ for at least twenty days in a newspaper printed in the county of McLennan, you give due notice to all persons interested to appear before said court at the November term, 1913, commencing on the 3d day of November, 1913, and contest the said account if they see proper to do so.

Witness my hand and seal of office at Waco, this 13th day of September, 1913. J. W. BAKER, Clerk County Court, McLennan County Texas.

FOUR-LEGGED SEA MONSTER.

Freak is Finless, Fur-Coated and Travels by Bounding. (London Daily News.)

No one is asked to believe this yarn. The author of it himself says so, for it is about a new and altogether astonishing sea monster seen on the west coast of Tasmania—a four-legged thing with a dog-sized head, a well-groomed fur coat and a lively, bounding habit of traveling. It disappeared in the sea. But to begin—

The story is told by Hartwell Conder, the Tasmanian state mining engineer, and printed in Australian papers just received in this country. Mr. Conder, who is engaged in official prospecting in the little known country between Masquarie Harbor and Port Davey, was so impressed by the thing, as vividly described to him by two of his companions, that he carried the news along to headquarters over the telegraph wires. The monster, he confesses at the very start, was so strange that "the men who saw it and myself anticipate quite cheerfully the smiles and incredulity of those who read this account." He adds, philosophically, "no one is asked to believe it."

"The animal," he proceeds to relate, "was seen by Oscar Davies, foreman prospector, and his mate (W. Harris), who are working under myself. . . I have known both of them for a considerable number of years, and can guarantee absolutely their sobriety, intelligence and accuracy. They were walking along the coast on April 29, just before sundown on a calm day, with small waves rolling in and breaking on the shore, when at a distance of about a half mile they noticed a dark object in the water, which surprised them by showing signs of movement."

"They advanced toward it and finally came within gunshot. When about forty yards off it rose suddenly and rushed down into the sea. After getting out about thirty yards it stopped and turned round, showing only the head above five seconds and then withdrew under the water and disappeared."

"The characteristics are summarized as follows: "It was 15 feet long. "It had a very small head, only about the size of the head of a kangaroo dog.

"It had a thick, arched neck, passing gradually into the barrel of the body."

"It had no definite tail and no fin. "It was furred, the coat in appearance resembling that of a horse of chestnut color, well groomed and shining."

"It had four distinct legs. "It traveled by bounding—i. e., by arching its back and gathering up its body, so that the footprints of the fore feet were level and also those of the hind feet."

"It made definite footprints. These showed circular impressions, with a diameter (measured) of nine inches. "There was no evidence for or against webbing. . . . The creature traveled very fast. A kangaroo dog followed it hard in its course to the

"Both men are quite familiar with seals and so-called sea leopards that occur on this coast. They had also seen before and subsequently pictures of sea lions and other marine animals, and can find no resemblance to the animal that they saw."

"Such are the details," concludes Mr. Conder. "When the humorists have enjoyed themselves at our expense the men of science may be able to connect this account with others which have come forward from time to time of strange beasts in our oceans. That no imprint was taken of the footprints and no marking out made of the form in the sand as one re-

INOCCULATION AGAINST FEVER.

Growing Practice in Guarding Against Infection. (Springfield Republican.)

It is only a question of time when vaccination against typhoid fever will become so general as not to excite remark. Now that the vaccination season has come around again, with the exposure of typhoid germs it brings, the public health authorities are urging upon the people in many parts of the country the use of the preventive.

Our own state board of health, for example, has sent letters to large corporations throughout the state urging that all salesmen who travel widely throughout the country, especially through the south, be inoculated with anti-typhoid vaccine. The Massachusetts death rate from typhoid fever last year was 7.8 for every 1000 persons, but in the south, for example, the incident of the fever runs up in many cases as high as ten times over record. Of course, typhoid acquired in other localities is a contributory cause of this state's death rate, and for this reason the board urges inoculation. The material for this is furnished free by the board of citizens of the state.

In Philadelphia the director of the department of health and charities, Dr. Neff, is prepared to vaccinate all persons who may apply for treatment. He makes the positive statement that typhoid fever, like smallpox, can now be prevented by vaccination. He particularly urges that those planning to visit country districts take the treatment. Thus are the public health authorities agreeing with the efficiency of anti-typhoid fever vaccination in preventing or lessening the severity of the attack in the small proportion of cases in which the disease occurs in spite of vaccination, has been established beyond question. Furthermore, the vaccination against typhoid, when performed in a surgically clean manner, is as simple and harmless a process as that against smallpox. It requires three injections of the typhoid vaccine under the skin at intervals of from seven to ten days. And about twenty days are required for the vaccinated person to develop immunity or protective or resisting power against typhoid fever germs. There is a mild reaction after each injection, causing some minor discomfort, such as weakness and perhaps a chill or slight nausea, but in the thousands of vaccinations performed in the United States army and elsewhere no serious harm has ever resulted.

SPELLS OF WEAK KIDNEYS READ AND SEE WHY

Some People Have Trouble With the Kidneys Every Autumn. They Become Frightened When the Symptoms Appear. There Is a Reason. It Can Be Avoided.

During the month of October the kidneys are especially liable to become deranged.

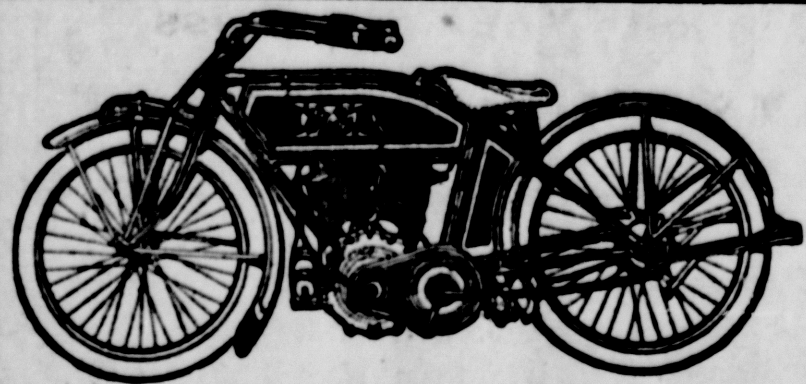

The perspiration that has been going on freely during the previous months is at least partially stopped during October. The skin and the kidneys are very similar in their action. They both eliminate from the blood poisons. As is well known, the skin can act in place of the kidneys in a small degree, and vice versa. When one is affected the other is apt to be.

The sudden checking of perspiration during the month of October throws upon the kidneys the extra work of eliminating the blood poisons. This concentrates the poisons in the urine, which may set up an irritable condition in the kidneys. The concentrated acidity of the urine irritates the whole tract.

The crisp weather of October naturally increases the appetite. It requires some self control not to overeat during the first cold days. During the hot weather previously the amount of food consumed is much less than the appetite craves during October. This also tends to produce irritation of the kidneys by the excess of material in the blood.

Peruna is a gentle diuretic. It assists the kidneys in meeting the extra burden thrown upon them through October weather. It is well to take it, according to the directions on the bottle, during the whole month.

Those who object to liquid medicines can now procure Peruna Tablets.

Grandfather Clause to Supreme Court

Washington, Oct. 4.—The federal government's effort to prove that the "grandfather clause" of the Oklahoma constitution violates the constitution of the United States, was begun in the supreme court today with the filing of a brief by Solicitor General Davis.

The circuit court of appeals for the Ninth circuit has certified to the supreme court the question of the validity of the amendment to the Oklahoma constitution, which grants suffrage to filipinos and their descendants who were entitled to vote prior to January 1, 1866. Mr. Davis contends the provision is unconstitutional.

TOSHESKY IS FREED

MAN ENTOMBED FOR A WEEK WALKS INTO FRESH AIR.

Is Little Worse for Experience—Answers "Bully" to Questions as to Feelings.

Centralia, Pa., Oct. 4.—Thomas Toshesky, prisoner since Friday of last week in an abandoned chamber of the Continental mine of the Lehigh Valley Coal company, walked into the open air at five and comparatively well man at twenty-two minutes before 8 o'clock this morning. He was taken to his home in Centralia, three miles away from his underground prison, and at once put to bed apparently none the worse for his remarkable experience. It was 7:15 o'clock when the last barrier of coal was driven away and Toshesky crawled through the opening from his prison chamber into the tunnel which had been steadily driven toward him by other miners. Seven minutes later the first intimation was given to the outside world that the task had been completed and that the prisoner was free. This was when a miner crawled to the mouth of the tunnel and called to the top of the pit for blankets and hot water to be sent down.

The work of getting the man ready for his exit occupied the next several minutes, and at 7:35 o'clock a file of men emerging from the heading located the approach of the hero of the occasion. Toshesky came from the hole with a gray blanket wrapped about his shoulders. Jack of him was a miner with hands upraised ready to assist if he should be needed, but Toshesky walked with astonishing agility, considering his long imprisonment.

First Looks Upwards.

When he stepped onto the wooden platform just outside of the mouth of the tunnel and was first able to stand upright, he paused for an instant and looked upwards as if in greeting to the world, or scanning the mine for a zig-zag path which led to the opening of the mine breach. His miner's cap was on his head when he crawled through the opening of the tunnel and greeted his rescuers. His lamp was in place upon his cap and was burning.

The most noticeable thing about him was a pallor which showed through the grime on his face, contrasting strangely with the other blackened faces, whose ruddy color showed even through the coat of dust. Toshesky climbed the path to the rim of the pit, almost unaided. A stretcher had been taken to the foot and there were plenty of willing hands to carry him, but Toshesky would have none of it.

Toshesky was glad to get out of his prison, but he acted as if it were an old story to him and nothing over which to make a great fuss. Once before he had been entombed for nearly six hours.

Half way up the tunnel Toshesky was stopped and posed for a photograph, together with Dr. H. G. Fortner, who had been in almost constant touch with him since communication was established on Tuesday night, and to whom is largely due the good health of the man. Toshesky wore the broadest smile of any person in the vicinity when brought out.

"Hello," he greeted everybody who spoke to him. His one reply to questions as to how he felt was, "Bully."

Just before the end of the tunnel was enlarged enough to permit the passage of his body, the miners engaged in the work were chatting with him. One asked him what he was doing.

"I get ready to move," he said. "This is no boarding house, no good bed, no spring, no nice boarding missus."

DEMOCRATS NOMINATE WILLARD
Will Run for Chief Judge of State Court of Appeals—Lawyers Want Republicans.

New York, Oct. 4.—Judge Willard Bartlett of Brooklyn was nominated today for chief justice of the state court of appeals by the democratic state committee. Abram L. Ekus of New York was nominated for associate judge of the same court.

A committee representing the State Bar association urged the state committee to endorse the republican candidates for the court of appeals. It was urged that as all the judges except one are democrats, it would be well to elect two republicans in order "that the court should be kept as evenly balanced as possible."

Only four of the fifty-one committee members, however, voted for the republican nominees.

Alton B. Parker headed the bar association committee and made the principal argument in support of its plan.

DECLARE FOR TWO-CENT RATE

Waco Council U. C. T. of A. Wants Cheaper Fares on Railroads.

At a regular meeting of Waco Council No. 32, United Commercial Travelers, held last night, action was taken on the move that has been made by the order to secure better passenger rates from the railroads for traveling men.

C. Herbert Green of this city is chairman of the railroad committee of the grand council of Texas. He placed before the general passenger agents of Texas at their last meeting at Fort Worth a proposition of a 5000-mile interchangeable scrip book for the flat price of $100, which is recognizing a business principle of wholesale lots at a wholesale price.

The railroads agents saw fit to decline the request and the local council went on record as favoring legislative enactment the two-cent passenger fare in Texas.

Other councils over the state are taking the same action and the indications now are that there will be more war between organized traveling men and the railroads during the next campaign for members of the legislature.

Ship Burns at New Orleans.

New Orleans, Oct. 4.—Fire broke out on the Norwegian steamship Hero as she was at the Orange street wharf here tonight and shortly before midnight it was necessary to move her up the river a short distance and beach her. The vessel rapidly was filling with water thrown onto the fire and it was feared she would sink. The fire was practically extinguished at midnight. The blaze started in a deckload of creosoted timbers and burned through the decks into the hold. The Hero cleared today for Tampa.

TO INVESTIGATE DYNAMITING

Grand Jury Venue Is Drawn by Order of Indianapolis Judge.

Indianapolis, Oct. 4.—The United States grand jury venue for the November term of court was drawn today on the order of Judge A. B. Anderson. The grand jury, which will meet here November 11, will investigate the latest phases of the dynamite conspiracy as brought out by the confession of George E. Davis, alias George O'Donnell, who was arrested Thursday in New York. The names of the grand jurors were not made public.

"We expect to make a thorough investigation of everything brought out by Davis' confession, which resulted in the arrest here of Harry Jones, secretary-treasurer of the International association of structural bridge and iron workers," said U. S. District Attorney Charles W. Miller, "and we hope to have our report ready when the grand jury meets."

In preparing the case Mr. Miller will be assisted by Robert J. Foster, investigator for the National Erectors' association, who caused the arrest of Davis.

MONKEY BRINGS DOCTORS JOY

Disappeared With Key to Mysterious Disease, but Stranger Returns Him.

Baltimore, Oct. 4.—Anxiety turned to joy when a small monkey which scientists of the pathological department of Johns Hopkins hospital believe holds the key to the solution of a rare and fatal disease was returned to the institution. The animal mysteriously disappeared from its cage in the Hunarian laboratory yesterday.

Whether the animal had been stolen or escaped from its cage and intelligently closed and fastened the door behind him remains as much of a mystery as the ailment with which he was believed to have been inoculated and from which there have been five deaths at the Johns Hopkins hospital in the last year.

Dr. Harry Schmeisser, who has been making the experiments, does not believe the animal could have communicated the malady to human beings during its sojourn away from the hospital, although showing evident symptoms of the disease. Dr. Schmeisser is practically certain his experiments have been successful. He began them early this year. The doctor declined to identify the disease.

The monkey was returned to the hospital by a man who had read an advertisement of its loss. He said he had bought it of a stranger Friday.

The experiment hinged on the return of the animal. If the results are satisfactory new and important truths to the medical world are looked for.

Beautifying Face and Form by Secrets That Rival Nature

Valeska Suratt

By Miss. Valeska Suratt

Miss Suratt Reveals Some of the Secrets Which Have Made Her Famous as the Self-Made Beauty-Queen of the American Stage and pinch it, squeeze it, roll it. Do this for a few minutes, until the cream disappears. Then apply your complexion powder.

MRS. ANASTASIA.—Yes, superfluous hair is not easy to properly remove unless you use simple sulfo solution. This is the only thing that leaves no redness or irritation, and never harms the most delicate skin. It is almost magical.

Get at any good drug store one ounce of simple sulfo solution. It will cost you one dollar, but it will last you quite a while. Apply this solution freely with the finger tips on the hair you want removed. Keep the hair moist with it until it has actually dissolved. This will take but two or three minutes. Then wipe off with a warm, damp cloth and wash the skin with warm water.

TERRIBLE.—This formula is a splendid one for blackheads. It removes as well those innumerable small blackheads which cannot be squeezed out. First wash the face with hot water and soap. Then sprinkle some norexin generously upon a sponge made wet with hot water. Then rub well for a few minutes on the parts of the skin which are affected with blackheads. This done, bathe the face with warm water and dry. You should be able to secure the norexin at any drugstore for 50c.

MARION S.—Muddy complexion, freckles and spots can be removed and pure, spotless skin be the result in a short time by using the following. I have tried everything, but without success. Let half a pint of water come almost to a boil. Add two table-spoonsful of glycerine. Keep stirring, while adding one ounce of zinc oxide until it is dissolved. Then let cool. If the cream is too thick to pour easily from a bottle, thin down a little with more hot water. The cream will be white and satiny. After bathing in the morning, hold a wet, hot towel to the face several times for a few minutes. Rub this cream on the entire face liberally. Let the cream dry on the face. Repeat this again at night. Any good drugstore will sell you an ounce of zinc oxide for not more than fifty cents.

JEANETTE.—Innumerable letters I have received from my readers indicate, as I had assumed them, the remarkable results of my wrinkle treatment. Deep lines and crow's-feet have entirely disappeared in a few weeks' time, even on women of middle age. Try it.

Four one-half pint of very hot water, not boiling, in a large bowl. Place this bowl in a pan of water on a slow fire. In a few minutes add two ounces of epsom and continue stirring until all is dissolved. At first it will look like jelly, then it will start to cream. When it does this, remove it from the fire, add slowly two table-spoonsful of glycerine and stir constantly until cold. Then keep it in an air-tight jar. You should be able to get epsom at any good drug store and it should not cost you more than fifty cents.

Apply this cream every morning with the tips of the fingers. Plaster your face very liberally over with the cream. Take up the flesh in your fingers men to remove foreign bodies from their eyes. The loss of sight in these cases, he stated, was caused largely by the perforation of the cornea, and by the transmission of infection by fingernails and other means.

Mr. Cameron was more concerned with prevention of injury in the first place, however, than with after treatment, and, with this idea in view, he drew up a set of directions to be followed by both foremen and the men under their oversight.

"There are two general sources of danger to the eyes," he said, "first, those originating with the workman himself; second, those originating with other workmen. Protection from the first is obtained mainly by the wearing of suitable goggles. Protection from the second may be had by the use of screens. There are two factors to the spectacle problem; first, securing suitable spectacles; second, getting them worn. By reason of its fragile and imperfect construction, the ordinary goggle or spectacle usually provided for workmen offers little if any protection. Indeed, it frequently causes the loss of an eye by the fracture of its brittle lens. The lenses must, as the prime consideration, be clear and transparent. And they must be strong enough to withstand a heavy blow from a blunt instrument.

"Spectacles should always be thoroughly clean. By boiling them in hot water or immersing them in an antiseptic solution, they can be put in a sanitary condition, and this precaution should always be taken. Where spectacles are handed in with the workmen's tools they should be cleaned daily. Diseases such as trachoma, trititis, etc., are transmitted by the promiscuous use of spectacles.

"There are many classes of workmen who should always wear spectacles while at work. Among these are clerks, typists and floggers in steel foundries. The work should be so arranged that the chips will fly against a wall or a screen covered with canvas, burlap, or fine wire net. There is special danger to the eyes of men in molten metal while it is being poured into molds. Blacksmiths, machinists, and workers about forges and fires are also liable to eye injuries from flying sparks and should wear eye protectors.

"Cheap hammers and chisels of poor quality are frequently the cause of eye accidents to mechanics. Care should be taken in all shops to have such tools carefully inspected each day and the chisels on the chisel made ground off to prevent them from flying off and striking the user of the tool or a fellow workman.

"Glasses are recommended to be used by operators of open hearth and crucible furnaces, as well as by workmen handling molten metal. Explosions have been known to scatter this metal, some of it going into the eyes of the workman.

"Men employed about electric arc welders should always wear a helmet to cover the head and protect the eyesight and skin. These helmets are made of aluminum or tin and are so light in weight that the men are willing to wear them.

"In one large steel foundry where spectacles have been in use for about two years, 48 pairs were collected in one month with lenses broken by flying pieces of steel, and 297 pairs have been collected since the several foundries of the company over a period of six months. During this period there were no serious eye accidents in these plants.

"When a workman realizes that he cannot secure a job in the dangerous trades if he refuses to wear safety spectacles or retain his place if he neglects to wear them the habit of wearing them will soon become fixed to the great benefit of both employer and employee."

Praise Work of Women in Driving Out Disorderly Houses—To Meet Next at New Orleans.

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 4.—The United States Brewers association today adjourned its fifty-third annual convention to meet next year in New Orleans. The organization declared itself favorable to granting more political power to women and praised the work done by them in wiping out disorderly houses, which it was asserted was a benefit to the municipalities from which they were driven, as well as to the brewer interest. The association also accepted the vigilant committee's report, which placed the organization on record as favoring the movement for civic improvements.

Concentration of the organization to meet the attacks of prohibitionists was declared to be one of the policies of the new officers.

Edward A. Schmidt, Philadelphia, was elected president; Gustav W. Lembeck, Jersey City, treasurer; and Hugh F. Fox, New York, secretary. A board of trustees was also chosen.

A Considerate Spouse. Rich Old Husband—"I admit that you come of a famous family, while I belong to the newly rich; but is that any reason why you should always be indirectly reminding folks of the fact?" Charming Young Wife—"I? How?" "You are forever talking about your ancestors."

"Really, my dear, you do me injustice. My reason for keeping people reminded of my great-grandfather, is to make you seem younger by contrast."

ASSAULTED, RUBBED

HARRY GILLET, COLLECTOR, VICTIM OF MEXICAN FOOTPAD.

Thief Stuns Him With Heavy Blow, Gets $184 and Makes a Get-away.

Harry Gillett, 17 years old, employed as a collector by Charles R. Slator, contractor, reported to the police yesterday afternoon that he had been assaulted and robbed by a Mexican on the street near the Waters-Pierce Oil company plant, First and Jackson streets.

Gillett says he was suddenly set upon by the Mexican as he walked along the street, shortly after 2 o'clock. He was dealt a stunning blow on the side of the head by the robber, who immediately afterward seized him and wrestled from him $184 in paper currency and $4 in silver.

The Mexican disappeared before the collector recovered from the effects of the heavy blow, but Gillett was able to give a minute description of his assailant. Chief of Police Hollis Barron issued a general order to the force instructing the men to keep a lookout for the Mexican, whose description as given by Gillett is as follows: Low caste type, small stature, dark complexion, overalls brimmed black hat, blue shirt, overalls and tan shoes.

TO PROBE DRINKING CHARGES

Daniels Will Investigate Allegations Made by Arthur Middleton, Former Paymaster.

Washington, Oct. 4.—Declaring that a naval officer's social relations "are a matter for personal determination," Secretary Daniels today let it be known that he did not expect to investigate published allegations by Arthur Middleton of Washington, a former navy paymaster, that caste and snobbishness prevail in the American navy.

The secretary is, however, investigating Middleton's charge that he had observed drinking and gambling aboard the cruiser Denver and the gunboat Yorktown. The former paymaster, who was a navy department today in response to a letter from the secretary asking for an explanation of his allegations, confined himself to general statements without details. He will be questioned further later.

EXPECT TROUBLE ON ISLANDS

Major Banholtz Declares Filipinos Want Independence From the United States.

Washington, Oct. 4.—Trouble with the Filipinos unless there is a declaration soon of the purpose of the United States to come to independence on the archipelago, is discussed in the annual report of Major H. H. Banholtz, the director of the Philippine constabulary, made public today. The report says that while the Filipinos would rather have the United States dominate the affairs of the islands than any other power, they want their freedom and already there have been many rumors of uprising such as always in the past preceded such outbreaks.

SCORES HITCHCOCK'S METHODS

Alexander H. Stephens Tells Members of Mail Service Spying Common Last Administration.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 4.—Alexander H. Stephens, general manager of the United States railway mail service, tonight told 200 members of the service, assembled here, that "by concerted action of the administration" he and his associates at Washington had "first set out to give railway mail clerks the square deal." He deprecated what he declared to have been espionage and spying on the part of the last republican administration and urged his hearers to renewed efforts in behalf of the good of the service. Mr. Stephens in the course of his address said:

"Bringing back into your work in this section the 'pep' that you lost three years ago when this man Hitchcock took from you the dignity of your work and left you all but branded."

Mr. Stephens came to Atlanta from Washington yesterday to inspect the headquarters of the fourth division of the railway service.

LEISHMANN OUT OF SERVICE.

CROSS, FEVERISH, SICK CHILDREN NEED "CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS"

A COATED TONGUE MEANS BLUGGISH LIVER AND BOWELS—LISTEN MOTHER!

Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated, this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once. When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has sour stomach, diarrhoea, remember a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given. Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills. Give a tea-spoonful and in just a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food, clogged in the bowels, passes out of the system and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless fruit laxative and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on each bottle. Mother, keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs." Then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." We make no cheaper size. Don't be fooled.

Somers System Expert to Return to Go Over Work

Equalizers Find Errors in Basic Values and William Young Has Been Recalled—To Readjust Depreciation Per Centages.

William Young, Somers system expert has been telegraphed to return to Waco with his assistant and take up an adjustment of values of real property and improvements, in order that errors may be corrected in the tax rolls.

This is the result of a sitting of more than a week of the board of equalization, composed of C. M. Hubby, E. W. Marshall and S. H. Clayton, during which time they have gone carefully into many details. The protests have been numerous.

Many Seek Hearing.
Crowds have swarmed into the rooms of the board and have waited patiently for a hearing. In some instances the board determined that the protest against the advance in prices was not justified, but in others it was found that the protest was a proper one, and it has caused the equalizers to look into things a bit closer, with the result that it has been found that some values are not properly placed. One fault of the renditions has been the failure to make allowances for "ditches" where they occur in the land-owning area. All real estate people concede the depreciation of value when a ditch runs through the property, but the proper percentage of reduction has not been ascertained. This in many instances. Another fault that has been discovered has been the failure to allow the proper depreciation on buildings, taking into consideration the wear and tear, and length of time that has elapsed since construction.

Equalizers Worked Hard.
The facts have not been determined without careful work by the equalizers. Property owners have taken their turn at the hearing, and day after day the room has been crowded with them, many waiting more than a day to get a chance at the books to go over the facts in regard to their holdings.

Mr. Young is to return Monday to take the matter up and to study it out again; and property owners will be heard again.

Official Statement.
Yesterday the following official statement was handed out by the city authorities:

"It was learned that at an informal meeting of the city board of equalization, held on Friday afternoon, October 3, 1913, with Mayor Mackey and Finance Commissioner Caulfield on Friday afternoon that the board of equalizers reported that in going fully into the work of the assessment obtained by the Somers system that they had discovered some discrepancies in valuations and that in a good many instances they had found valuations on buildings and improvements too high, also that in a few sections of the city that they (the board) had in error given the experts a greater unit value than was justified. Mayor Mackey and Commissioner Caulfield together with both boards agreed that they were determined that as far as correct system, painstaking care and hard work could make perfect, they would do so with the assessment of values in Waco for 1913. And to this end Mr. Young, the Somers system expert, with his appraisal expert, has been recalled and will reach Waco Monday morning and will remain with the board till every irregularity has been straightened out."

"It would be impossible to get three better qualified men than Mr. E. W. Marshall, C. M. Hubby and S. H. Clayton as a board of equalizers, and the Somers system is acknowledged to be the best, most scientific and fairest system in use for the correct assessment of taxes. So the taxpayers need not have the least fear but that every citizen and every interest will be treated fairly and justly."

Millions of Tadpole Eggs Hatched in Haunted Hold

Sora Rise in Clouds to Skies—Tale of Bo's'n Bold. Hoodoo at Wheel of Good Ship John F. Mac Guided Honest Sailormen to Old Nick's Realm and Back.

(Staff Correspondence.)

Galveston, Oct. 4.—It was the good ship John F. Mac, direct from tropic seas, put into port this afternoon sky-rocketing for the breeze. The skipper wore a haggard look, the first mate's face was pale; the crew all hollow-eyed and wan. Whereof the bo's'n's tale.

"It were in latitude 16 and longitude 61—or phaps 'twere 'tother way around—but that don't matter none. We're only sure it were upon the ocean's heavin' breast. The wind I think was nor'-nor'-east—or mebbe 'nor'-sou'-west. We'd sailed a day, or two, or three before from Kingstown, bound with general cargo for this here and other ports around."

"One lot stowed snugly in the hold and listed 'special care' were devil's cargo, stranger, as I'm now prepared to swear. The manifest read 'Sixty-seven tanks of tadpole eggs.' Glass tons was on them tanks, which was the size of lager beer kegs. Sez I, 'Such freight ain't lucky when 'twere hoisted 'cross our side. What happened subsequently went to show I hadn't lied. 'Now, mind ye, we was five days out of port, and all serene. No cloud flecked the cerulean dome—whatever that may mean—when, as I started out to say, without a warnin' sign the skies grew suddenly ink-black and rough the rollin' brine. The cap'n comes on deck. Sez he, 'Now, blast me, those eyes, there's goin' to be the biggest storm ye ever see arise.'"

"And, sure enough, before we'd went another bloomin' knot, the wind and waves was roarin' like the place that's ways hot. I never see the air so thick with flyin' spray, I think. Why, every time we drew a breath we got a salty drink. The ship was lifted by the wind from out the ocean's trough a dozen times and dropped at—say a hundred full yards off."

"The wind starts blowin' east and west in simultaneous gales. The air was full of wreckage, flyin' foam and dyin' whales. I rushes to the cabin and I writes upon the log: 'Ship hoodooed by them tadpole eggs,' then pipes the crew to grog."

"Believe me, mate, I never want to see such sights again as them that whirled around us there upon the ragin' main. The ship was spinnin' through the storm at ninety knots or more. In fancy we could hear the beat of Charon's muffled oar. The skipper, almost prayin', grabs me by the fin and groans: 'I guess it's up to us to make a cull on Duvy Jones.'"

"He had no more than said it when a strange thing comes to pass. A noise like guns in action, and a shatterin' of glass—a gruesome and uncanny noise—proceeded from the hold, where them tadpole eggs was stowed. Now let the truth be told, she ship she trembled fore and aft and shivered through and through. And, speakin' now of shivers, they was comin' to that crew."

"But while we stood there shakin' like a flock of many sheep there came the strangest sight of all. It worried us a heap. Then hatches, which was battened down as tight as any drum, was lifted suddenly skyward, on the route to Kingdom Come. Then come a mighty rush of winds; and swarmin' thick and loud, and rollin' out from under decks, and risin' like a cloud, some forty million sora passed before our very eyes. For twenty-seven minutes, mate, we couldn't see the skies."

"Which makes me pause to say perhaps I underestimate that flock of sora, mieter. Make them millions forty-eight."

"Now, sailors is some curious; so, when the storm was spent, we wondered whence them sora came and where them sora went. And goin' down into the hold we learned how tadpole eggs are evolved into birds with funny wings and legs."

"The tropic heat had hatched them eggs and jammed each metal craft with more robust young tadpoles than it could accommodate. That's how them tanks exploded, and the squirmin', wrigglin' snips got loose among the bats, which swarm in all big merchant ships."

"Now sora isn't fish or flesh, or anything like that. It's mongrel, bred by crossin' of the tadpole with the bat. "But no man can convince me—and it ain't no use to try—that tadpole eggs is honest freight. Say, mate, I'm monstrous dry."

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

Central Texas District Workers in Session at Belton—Many Strong Speakers on Program.

Belton, Oct. 4.—The annual Central Texas district Sunday school convention is in session here this week and will conclude its labors Sunday night, October 5.

The district comprises about twenty populous Central Texas counties, and despite unfavorable weather conditions, the attendance has been very satisfactory. The people of Belton have exerted their well known reputation for hospitality and a warm and generous welcome has been accorded all of the visitors, entertainment and reception being accorded them in the homes of the city and their comfort and convenience made a matter of study. Large delegations from Temple attended the convention today in specially chartered interurban cars and helped swell the attendance considerably. The program today provided for divisional conferences and reports from divisions attending the convention; an address by Rev. S. W. Hutton on "A Square Deal for the Sunday School;" Dr. Frederick Elv spoke on the question of "The Superintendent." A workers' meeting followed, led by State Sunday School Superintendent W. N. Wiggins of Dallas. This was followed by songs "Elementary Demonstration," by Messrs. W. N. Wiggins and H. W. Hoon evoked great interest and close attention. John M. Adams of Fort Worth delivered an address at the morning session on "Temperance" and spoke again at night on the subject of "Rations." His talks were highly

CHICAGO DEDICATES FIELD

First Game on New $200,000 Gridiron
Results in Victory Over Indiana.

Marshall Field, Chicago, Oct. 4.—Chicago dedicated her new $200,000 athletic field this afternoon with a victory over Indiana, score 21 to 7. Two of Chicago's scores came on the result of intercepted forward passes. Captain Norgren made a brilliant 40-yard run through half the visiting team. The third touchdown followed played by Norgren, Pierce and Kennedy. The losers' only score followed a 43-yard run by Winters, after intercepting a forward pass.

Captain Edwards of Indiana dislocated his right knee during a scrimmage in the third period. He was helped from the field and the injured limb put in a plaster cast.

Harvard 14, Bates 0.
Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 4.—Playing a conservative game, the Harvard football eleven registered 14 points against Bates and held their opponents without score on the water soaked gridiron of the stadium today.

At no time was the crimson goal threatened and only once did Bates gain first down. The Harvard team's offense was found wanting at times, and especially in the third period, when they were held for downs on Bates' three-yard line.

Yale 0, Maine 0.
New Haven, Conn., Oct. 4.—The University of Maine football team, which last Saturday was smothered by Harvard 34 to 0, gave Yale the biggest surprise in years on Yale field this afternoon, when they held the blue to a 0 to 0 score. The Maine collegians, though rushed off their feet, at times presented a magnificent defense whenever their goal was threatened.

Yale used a new variation of Minnesota wing shift that was a great ground game, but whenever a score seemed imminent there was hesitancy and then fumbling, which prevented touchdowns. Once the blue rushed the ball more than half the length of the field by brilliant running, only to be held for downs within a foot of the line.

Yale's defense was excellent and only once did Maine make first down—the last play of the game. Captain Keckham of Yale played a brilliant game in his new position at left guard.

Princeton 69, Fordham 0.
Princeton, N. J., Oct. 4.—Princeton swamped Fordham in football this afternoon by a score of 69 to 0. The Tigers played an entirely open game. The team which started for Princeton was soon changed for the second string men, and these in turn were relieved by other substitutes, until nearly the entire squad had a chance to play.

Right of Discovery.
An Envious Contemporary (to Miss Sudlow)—"And so you are really engaged to Mr. Timid Smithkins?"

Miss Sudlow (quite provokingly)—"Yes, dear, and I want you to suggest something sweet and tender to go in my engagement ring."

Envious Contemporary—"If I were in your place I'd just have the simple word, Eureka"—Puck.

Zowie!!

Just look at him streaking it. Somebody tried to soak him $45 for a "quality" suit. He's heading straight for the Scotch Woolen Mills where you get the same "quality" for $15.

Suit or Overcoat

Made-to-Order

It's easy to understand when you consider that our workmen come to us in Carload Lots Direct from the Mills. And that's only one reason. The main thing is that we produce the goods and save you $10. Come on over.

BAYLOR WINS A CLOSE GAME 9-7LIGHT ELEVEN OF SAN MARCOS ACADEMY PLAYS FAST
FOOTBALL.

VISITORS SCORE ON A PASS

Baylor's Scores Both Result From Fumbles—Water Field Causes Frequent Juggling.

With water standing in puddles all over Carroll Field yesterday, the light eleven of San Marcos Academy put up one of the gamiest exhibitions ever seen on the Baylor gridiron, and it was only by hard fighting and a liberal allowance of luck in juggling the slippery ball that Baylor defeated them 9 to 7.

Both of Baylor's scores were made on "fumble" plays. Her touchdown came after the ball, water-soaked and covered with mud, had rolled between the San Marcos quarterback's legs when he was receiving it for a punt. Captain "Titi" Fouts recovered it and raced to within three yards of the goal, where he was tackled and dropped the ball. Baylor's center, Ward, fell on it back of the academy line.

Baylor again scored and added the two points that decided the contest when the academy was forced close to her own goal line and fumbled. Capalletti, who recovered the ball, was tackled back of the goal for a safety.

Capalletti Makes Brilliant Run.
Capalletti's brilliant run through a broken field after receiving a forward pass, brought the academy score, and was the feature of the game. The fast interference of his teammates aided materially in making his sixty-yard sprint possible. The academy interference was efficient at all times during the game, and showed the effect of thorough coaching. Their plays were started fast and carried through cleanly, in spite of the wet ball and watery field. Their use of the forward pass was one of the notable features of the game, the only two which they attempted being successful.

The only unfavorable comment was that they failed to use the power of the academy's strongest means of attack. Coach John Fouts of the academy said he was well satisfied with the game his men put up against their heavier opponents.

Baylor Develops Attack.
After being outplayed in the first half of the game, the Baylor eleven braced and developed a winning attack, keeping the visitors fighting in their own territory for the rest of the game. Patton's work on both the defensive and offensive was the stellar stunt of the green and gold aggregation, as time and again he tore through the academy tacklers for long gains and made a number of brilliant tackles to break up the academy runs.

Williams' punting was good, and his all round work steady, as usual. Fouts and Leach put up fast defensive work on the ends and Matthews did well in the line.

The most spectacular work of the line was done by Williams of the academy team, who broke through with disconcerting regularity and tackled the Baylor backs before they got their plays under way. The academy ends, Hallmark and Phillips, also played a fast game, and showing up especially well under punts.

Captain Norman C. Paine of the Baylor team said after the game that the condition of the field made the game close, as it gave equality to teams otherwise unequal. He thinks that on a dry field the local team would have carried away a more decisive victory.

The line-up:
San Marcos—L. E. Fouts (Capt.)
McFadden, L. G. Robinson
M. Hallmark, C. Turner, Matthews
Williams, R. T. Isaacs
Billingsley, R. E. Leach
Capalletti, Q. Mitchell-Crosslin
T. Fouts, L. H. Oppenhe
Butler, R. H. Tibbitts, Willingham, Patton Walker (Capt.), E. B. Matthews Willingham

Summary: Herring (A. & M.), referee; Braun (Seawane), umpire; Willie, deal line-man; Rogers, timekeeper. Time of game, 11 minutes. Touchdowns, Cap-alletti and Ward; safety, Fouts.

It's an age of wonders, but we'd never believe that Mrs. Pankhurst had won the Nobel peace prize.

Philadelphia, Oct. 4.—Manager Mack of the Philadelphia league champions put two sets of infielders and outfielders, two catchers and three of his young pitchers in against New York in the final league game here today, and the latter won the game, 10 to 8. It was a weirdly played affair, both teams fielding poorly, the pitchers being wild and the batting Philadelphia's regular fielders played for five innings and three of them piled up 7 hits and stole 4 bases, while they were charged with four errors. In the sixth Manager Mack sent in a brand new team with the exception of Shawkey. In the eighth and ninth innings, largely through Houck's wildness in saving eight passes, New York scored seven runs and landed the victory.

Detroit 7-0, Chicago 5-1.
Detroit, Oct. 4.—Chicago and Detroit split a double-header here today. The first contest, marked by two batting rallies in the eighth inning, went to the Tigers 7 to 5. "Red" Russell, in the pinches, shut out the locals in the second, 1 to 0. The game was called on account of darkness at the end of the sixth. Cobb played his first game of the season. High replaced him early in the second contest and fielded brilliantly.

Washington 10, Boston 9.
Washington, Oct. 4.—The final curtain on the 1913 American league baseball season in this city was rung down today when Washington took the last game from the Boston Red Sox, 10 to 9. The exhibition was a farce throughout, players of both teams indulging in comedy and giving their opponents an opportunity to fatten batting averages. Catchers and pitchers were turned into fielders, fielders took turns in the box. The day was "army day," having been set aside in honor of the thousands of visiting cavalrymen who have been in camp at Winchester, Va., all summer, about 3000 of the soldiers being on hand with two bands.

Cleveland 5-0, St. Louis 4-0.
Cleveland, Oct. 4.—Cleveland and St. Louis played a double-header today. The locals taking the first 5 to 4. The second was called on account of darkness at the end of the eighth inning, with the score 6 to 0. In the second game, all out of the game for more than three weeks because of a lame arm, divided honors with Weidman. Neither team had any serious chance to score in the eight innings. The scores:

Heaters, $1.50 Up

Cole's Hot Blast Heaters

Will save you thirty-three and one-third per cent in fuel. They are air-tight and utilize every heat unit contained in a lump of coal. The under-draft stoves or cheap imitation hot blast, with their loose-fitting points, are not airtight—they allow the draft from the chimney to draw the gas and a great deal of heat up the chimney, absolutely wasting 1-3 of your heat. An analysis of coal shows it to contain 33 to 44 per cent gas. This gas is wasted unless you use Spoiled Her Fun.

A "Weary Willie" of the genus hobnob lay down to enjoy a noontime siesta under an apple tree beside the road. The season was midsummer, the sun was piping hot, and the hobnob napped himself to good humor with all the world. So it was that when opening his eyes he found some time obnoxious serving the flies and the mosquitoes swarming on his grumpy clothes, until up buzzed a busy mosquito, lit on Mr. Tramp's breast and stung him.

Aroused to action by the imperiousness, the tramp indignantly brushed off the insect, exclaiming:

Markets & Telegraph

Cotton.

New York, Oct. 4.—Apprehensions of renewed bad weather in the southwest and bullish reports from the dry goods trade, checked a decline in the cotton market in the early trading today and prices advanced sharply on covering of shorts, trade buying of renewed bull report. The close was firm and from 9 to 14 points higher.

Lower Liverpool cables, reports of increased southern hedge selling and the reaction sentiment that developed here after the publication of the October 1st report, were probably responsible for the early sell-off. At any rate, after opening unchanged to 2 points lower, active months sold about 6 to 7 points under the final figures of the morning or about 32 1/2 points below the recent high records.

Houses with southern and European connections, as well as local traders, were active in unfavorable reports from Liverpool, private cables from Germany reported that the cent advance in prices had checked the demand from spinners.

Weekly reviews of the domestic dry goods situation indicated a very active demand at advancing prices, however, following the western belt forecast for renewed rains over Sunday, accompanied by lower temperatures, traders turned heavily covering on the advance, part of which seemed to come from some of the heaviest early in the week, sellers, and active months rallied some 15 to 18 active months, the last quotations of the day were within a point or two of the best.

Local brokers thought it possible that the final adjustment of tariff uncertainties had been partly responsible for the extreme activity reported in the early trading of cotton goods are showing increased confidence in prices owing to the situation with reference to raw material.

New Orleans.

New Orleans, Oct. 4.—The price of cotton fluctuated widely on the week-end session of the market. Bears worked hard for a downward reaction and for a while it looked as if their efforts would be successful. Continued unfavorable weather in the western belt, however, turned the scales against them and from the middle of the morning on the market made considerable strength.

The opening was steady, 1 down to 2 up compared with yesterday's close. Liverpool was exceptionally poor on Friday but this met with no immediate response in the local market because the weather man indicated that more rain had fallen overnight in Texas. After the call prices stood 1 to 4 points over yesterday's close. This small rise brought out much week-end liquidation of long cotton and bears sought to spread their advantage by heavy offerings of short cotton. The market fell off until the trading months were 4 to 6 points under the last quotations of the day. The forecast was called very unfavorable. It predicted rain for a good part of the belt, including Texas. Private telegrams from Mexico told of an extremely serious situation as the result of extensive rains and brought about a pronounced buying mania. Prices advanced the last quotations of the day stood 14 to 16 points over last night. The close was steady at a net rise for the day of 9 to 12 points.

Short Measures in Oysters.
Washington, Oct. 4.—Shortage of 10 to 15 per cent of drained oyster meat was discovered by the national board of food and drug inspection in its examination of samples of oysters put up during the season of 1912-13. This shortage was found, says an official statement, in cans of all sizes except packing select and extra select oysters. The officials express the opinion that this was not intentional, but due rather to the fact that the packers made insufficient allowance for loss of weight of oysters through processing.

Mormon's Condemn Women's Dress.
Salt Lake City, Oct. 4.—President
Joseph F. Smith of the Mormon church, at the opening session of the Latter Day Saints, in annual conference here today, condemned women's present-day dress.
Characterizing them as "abominable, indecent fashions," Mr. Smith said tight and diaphanous skirts originated among the lowest classes of women in degenerate cities. He said he hoped the daughters of Latter Day Saints would avoid such apparel.

RADFORD POLICY IS TO CONTINUE
PRESIDENT W. D. LEWIS OF FAR-MERS' UNION SO AN-NOUNCES.
CALLS EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE
To Meet in Fort Worth Tuesday for Conference—Paramount Issues Are Outlined.

Fort Worth, Oct. 4.—W. D. Lewis, recently elected president of the Farmers' union, today issued a call for a meeting of the executive committee of that organization to be held in Fort Worth October 7, to plan the coming year's work. The organization is in splendid condition, its membership is rapidly increasing and the public is recognizing the union as a powerful factor for progress. The annual meeting at San Antonio brought the organization into prominence and gave the public a better understanding and appreciation of its work.

In discussing the affairs of the organization and outlining the plans under consideration for the coming year,
Mr. Lewis said:

Radford Policies to Continue.
"In taking charge of this organization, I want to repeat that I am thoroughly in harmony with the policies of ex-President Peter Radford, and it shall be my purpose to take up the work where he left off and carry it to completion to the best of my ability.
He shouldered many heavy tasks and to finish the job will require considerable time and effort."

"I consider marketing, rural credits and transportation the most important problems of the farmer and it is most gratifying to find the public generally accepting this view. I want to renew the offer of co-operation with the business interests, and to express my appreciation of the assistance they have given in the past.
It is only through co-operation that we can succeed."

"Much has been said in the press of late on the importance of marketing and rural credits and the half has not been told, but I want to direct attention to the subject of co-operation.
I am going to make co-operation the keystone of my administration."

Co-operation as Farmers Understand It.
"As commonly understood and practiced, co-operation in business means that the consumers co-operate in making the owners rich, but co-operation,
as the Farmers' union understands it, means that the patrons receive a profit in proportion to the business they give the concern after a reasonable dividend is paid the stockholders. The principle of recognizing the co-operator as a partner in the business is one of true co-operation."

"We do not propose plans of co-operation that contemplate the farmer shall sell direct to the consumer. We recognize the merchant as a necessary factor in distribution. We are endeavoring to eliminate wasteful agencies and to extend and increase the usefulness of those that are necessary, as well as employ more economical methods of conducting the sale and purchase of the things the farmer sells and buys. It is conceded by all who study our economic problems that there is a waste of from 25 to 50 per cent in distribution. We do not presume to be able to locate and take out all the waste, and we invite all citizens to join in the search and participate in the verdict of elimination."

"Our government has been active (and very properly so) in punishing illegal acts of corporations and lines of industry, but where the farmer has lost one dollar by theft from associated industries, he has lost ten dollars through waste and inefficiency in methods of distribution. Let government not relax its vigilance in punishing crimes, but extend its activities into the constructive fields of business."

Model Gin Association.
"I want to further illustrate my viewpoint of co-operation by citing the cotton gin organization at Burleson, Texas. There are other co-operative cotton gin associations organized on the same basis, but I select this one on account of being familiar with its affairs. The company has an investment of $10,000. Last season the concern ginned cotton at the same rate as other gins and divided a profit of 12 per cent among the patrons of the gin. There are many machines and contrivances necessary in the preparation of the products for the market that can best be used in co-operative methods."

"The farmer should own his own tools and implements, and where the machinery is of such a nature that it can serve an entire community, then
the farmers should combine and own
and operate it on a co-operative basis.
There are as many good reasons why
the farmers should combine and own
the cotton gins as there are reasons why an individual farmer should own his plow. Every cotton gin in Texas should be owned and operated on the co-operative plan and the farmer should study out methods of extending the system of co-operation to the ownership and control of much of the machinery now used in the preparation of his products for the market.
The control of the gin means the control of the seed and will enable the farmers of Texas to get several million dollars more for the seed crop than at present."

Industrial Reciprocity.
"I do not hope for much assistance through legislation. We need a few laws to authorize advance methods of co-operation and there is always much educational work that is properly a function of government, but co-operation cannot be secured by statute. It must be done through voluntary organization."

"I am going to advocate reciprocity between the various lines of industry.
Custom is more powerful than law and co-operation more profitable than litigation. Each separate industry lives too much to itself and seeks its own gain without reference to the rights of others and the cry of distress of one is seldom heeded by another."

"I am registering no complaint, for the bankers have responded nobly to our demands for cheap money; the merchants are adopting a wise, definitive and encouraging policy in their management, I am in favor of a constitutional amendment which will provide for a state ad valorem tax for the equipment, support and maintenance of these institutions."

"I endorse the act of the Thirty-third legislature in the extension of the scholastic age and shall insist that on account of this extension, additional provision be made for the support of the common schools."

"As is the teacher, so is the school." The state acts wisely in fostering and encouraging the professional training of teachers in the institutes, the summer normals, the colleges and the universities. I shall favor such legislation as shall tend to strengthen and to make more efficient this phase of our public school system."

"The rural high school law is a step in the right direction. It should be amended so as to define clearly the duties of the county board of education and to limit its authority over the common school district—giving the greatest power to the local trustees consistent with efficient organization."

"An efficient school system requires close supervision. I am in favor of strengthening and extending the office of county superintendent and of placing it on a higher professional basis."

"7. As the state maintains her system of public education for the improvement of citizenship it should continue to encourage vocational training—not only in the higher institutions of learning but also in the rural schools."

"8. In order that the efficiency of the schools may be increased and that every child shall have an opportunity to secure at least a common school education I favor a law which will authorize boards of trustees in districts levying a local tax to furnish free text-books to all of the children of said district."

"9. I am in favor of compulsory school attendance of all children between the ages of eight and fourteen subject to the exemptions which have been found necessary in the experience of other states."

"10. The buildings and equipment of the public schools are the property of all of the people and under proper restrictions should become social centers for their instruction and entertainment."

"I believe the teachers' institutes are organized for the professional training of teachers and the time paid for by the state should not be used for the purpose of furthering the interest of a particular party."

An experience of thirty years in the rural, village and city schools of Texas, during twenty of which I have had the honor of being the superintendent of the city schools of Terrell, justifies me in announcing to the democrats of Texas that I shall submit my name for consideration at the primary next July. In doing so I hereby pledge the sovereign voters that if I am elected they shall have the opportunity of selecting my successor without having a candidate who has the plea that on account of recent appointment
he should have the nomination.

Terrell, Oct. 4.—S. M. N. Marrs, superintendent of schools here, makes the following announcement:

On August 10, prior to the resignation of Hon. F. M. Briley and the appointment of his successor, in an open letter to Supt. L. C. Gies of Greenville, I stated that under certain conditions I would announce as a candidate for the office of state superintendent of public instruction. Since that date I have received assurances of active support from more than one hundred counties. In view of this generous expression from the friends of public education throughout the state I believe that my candidacy will be acceptable to the great masses of the people.

I deem it proper to state briefly a Bricklayers Will Not Affiliate.

Indianapolis, Oct. 4.—Members of the Bricklayers, Masons and Plaster-ers' International union of America have voted not to affiliate with the American Federation of Labor, according to announcement made at the headquarters here today by Wm. Dobson, general secretary of the international. Out of a total membership of $2,351 only 20,351 votes were cast and of these only 7,357 were in favor of affiliation.

Secretary Dobson said that in spite of the adverse vote the question probably would be submitted to the international convention next January at Houston, Tex., and might be carried there.

Mr. Dobson said he believed the adverse decision was the result of the members looking at the proposition solely from a local standpoint and whether they were friendly or unfriendly with local trades organizations.

HOLD HARMONIOUS MEETING.

Massachusetts Democrats Strike Not a Single Discardant Note.

Boston, Oct. 4.—Without a discordant note on any topic, the democratic state convention in Faneuil Hall today unanimously adopted the platform prepared by the resolutions committee and endorsed the state ticket headed by Lieutenant Governor David I. Walsh, which was nominated in the recent primaries.

The resolutions contain planks designed to hold party candidates close to the platform. One urges that provision be made for having the platform passed on by the voters in the primaries and another favors having candidates for nomination file with the secretary of state an affirmation of their substantial agreement with the party platform. A resolution protesting against the appointment of men to federal positions without consultation with state party leaders was defeated before the platform committee.

ANOTHER QUAKE AT PANAMA

Disturbance of Fifteen Seconds' Duration—Does No Damage to Canal or Locks.

Panama, Oct. 4.—Another earthquake occurred on the isthmus at 5:06 this afternoon. Its duration was from ten to fifteen seconds.

Buildings were severely shaken, but apparently no damage was done beyond the falling of plaster and the opening of slight fissures in a few structures.

Reports from the canal zone officials indicate that neither the locks nor any part of the canal suffered in any degree whatever.

The recording instruments indicated that the shock had about half the intensity of the one Wednesday night and covered practically the same area with the central point of the disturbance about 119 miles from Panama City.

The instruments further showed that a tremor also occurred at 5 o'clock in the morning and that in all there were about eighteen distinct movements.

Registers at Colon.

Colon, Oct. 4.—An earth shock lasting four or five seconds was felt at Colon a few minutes after 5 o'clock this afternoon. The disturbance was not nearly as sharp as that on Wednesday night. The canal officials at Gatun report no damage to the canal. As in the previous case, residents were much alarmed over the tremors, many of them seeking safety in the streets.

Shake at Naples.

Naples, Oct. 4.—A strong earthquake shock occurred here at 7:20 this evening. It lasted thirty seconds and was followed by another shock at 7:30. Both were undulatory and caused a considerable panic, though the damage was insignificant.

Shocks occurred also in the nearby provinces, particularly Avellino, where the inhabitants abandoned their houses. In the province of Foggia many of the villagers are camping in the fields.

LANE HAS A BIG JOB.

Public Lands, Indians, Forests, Pensions, Patents and Schools Are Heavy Burden.

(Honore Whistle, in Harper's Weekly.) No one has caught more keenly than the new secretary of the interior the significance of the new order. He realizes that a new order demands new answers.

The capacity for thinking in terms of humanity is characteristic of Young America. It is this characteristic, modified by his wide experience, that marks Mr. Lane's policies. Mr. Lane dominated the interstate commerce commission and he carried it by his balanced attitude. The owner is a human to the secretary, as well as the employee. On the commission he stood for the shipper and the passenger, but at the same time he proposed that the railroads should have the chance to make every cent that was justified by their investment. It is this sort of balance that is needed by Young America.

The position of a secretary of the interior on the matter of land is peculiarly difficult. The policy must be formulated, then the general land office gotten into shape for administering the policy or it is futile. The general land office is overworked and understaffed. It is constantly accused of having a graft system. The forming of policies is a gigantic task; but, added to this, the secretary must organize his administrative force into effective service in the face of every sort of pressure, he must find men who will carry out his ideas, or else the real results of his policies are nothing.

The land question in the United States," says Mr. Lane, "is the question of how best the land that the government owns can be put into public service and what is the highest service to which it can be put. Some people think the government should maintain entire indifference as to the hands into which these lands fall; that, although this immediately will lead to land monopoly, it ultimately will lead to small holdings and full use. As far as the government has indicated a policy, it is that land shall become the abode of householders. We wish to do whatever we can to prevent land monopoly. That is the theory of the homestead law, always to limit the amount any one person can take up. In passing the reclamation act units were decreed. Our land policy is to get families on to the land not as tenants in the European sense but as owners, identified with the soil.

This becomes a great social problem. In fifty years we are to have a nation of more than one hundred and fifty millions of people. Uncle Sam wants as many as possible of these to be tied to him by land interest and to be contributing to his wealth by actual productivity. The only real land problem is to retain for families the opportunity to get land and to keep these lands from corporations or those who wish to hold them for themselves against their contribution to the general welfare.

The Indian office has long been a labyrinth of inefficiency and graft, whose intricacies it has been impossible for the competent man to disentangle in the short time allowed him to get into office. The system of Indian spoliation has extended from congressmen to the man who sells groceries on the reservations. The problem of the Indian is the problem of finding men to interpret that policy.

This is Mr. Lane's Indian policy: "The best hope that I see for the Indian is to allot his property to him as rapidly as possible. A portion of this property he should not be able to alienate, so that it will remain to him and his children as a permanent insurance against the greed of the whites and his own incompetence. The greatest service that can do for the Indian is to set him free and the Indian bureau should be a vanishing bureau."

We put a tremendous responsibility on the man who is made secretary of the interior. His is the most heavily loaded office in the cabinet. Beside the great bureaus already mentioned, the secretary has charge of the national parks, which comprise over 4,500,000 acres of land which congress has from time to time set aside as national playgrounds. But congress has at the same time made no adequate provision for their administration. Congress makes separate appropriations for the care of each of the parks. The rest is up to the secretary of the interior.

The geological survey with its annual expenditure of a million and a half dollars, its work of inestimable value to the public domain, also its inadequate rented quarters, belongs to the department of the interior.

The pension office with its appropriation for 1913 of $164,500,000, and the patent office are in Mr. Lane's department. The bureau of education, American antiquities, superintendent of the capital buildings and grounds, government hospital for the insane, Freedmen's hospital, Howard university, and the Columbia institution for the Deaf and Dumb are in Mr. Lane's care. If each department were not of itself so important the grouping of their direction in the hands of one man would be laughable. As a matter of fact, such a conglomeration of business under one head is stupid and unfair.

No department of government is criticized more than that of the secretary of the interior, nor is there any department of which we know less. One cannot sit in Mr. Lane's office for any length of time and not realize how hard it is for a man in the secretary's position to get his ideas across to the public, the people in whom he is honestly interested. The little is too little to say, the much, too much. Every statement and act must pass through many hands before the report of it reaches the man at the crossroads or the shoe machine, or Young America.

In the heavy stress of the department's work mistakes must be made, and it is usually the one foolish appointment or decision that reaches the public and not the ten wise ones.

It gives one a renewed sense of the permanent rightness of human endeavor or when one discovers that men with Mr. Lane's ideals of public service are not isolated phenomena but that they typify a breed; new to American politics, indeed, but a breed that always has lived and always will, simply because it is human.

CALENDAR FOR THE WEEK.

At the Auditorium:
Thursday night—Julian Eltinge, in "The Fascinating Widow."
Friday night—Neil O'Brien's "Great American Minstrels."

Yet Once More.

"McFadden's Flats" is Glen MacDonough's masterpiece and the big cities' curiosity and almost the smaller cities' duty. Somewhere—a different somewhere each fall—there is a playhouse that must be opened with McFadden's Flats. Like to three or four standard minstrel shows that might be named, "McFadden's Flats" is almost a habit. It is irrefragable and therefore inevitable. It is as noisy as its name and as good natured. Everybody who plays in it has to work and appears not to want to loaf. "McFadden's Flats" were put up in the Auditorium last night and Waco's "McFadden's Flats" honorary dedication for life was well represented at the performance. The girls' voices were no more musical than the voices of the "McFadden's Flats" chorus in years ago, but they were quite as vigorous. Arthur Connolly was a properly brooded McFadden and Joe Mason's Deutscher accent in the part of McFadden's running mate was allied to the real thing. There were a dozen other young folk distinguished by separate lines in the cast and fifteen numbers with this word at the head, "musical," were divided equally among three acts. The audience could count the division and be assured that each act was as musical as the next.

Again were the Specks the "yellow kids" and again were their antics and their liltless mirth provokers on quite the approved provocation—they pulled chairs from under McFadden and Baumgartner and kicked legs from under bodies in copyrighted "McFadden's Flats" fashion. Let it again be recorded that the Widow Murphy, queen of the flats (Miss Annie Hart) got a high score in the laugh column for her piercing rendition of a Spanish song in 14th street French. And let it be credited that Miss Maybelle Mahlum and Frank Melville danced well. There can be no doubting that "McFadden's Flats" goes its noisy careless way, season after season, serving a distinct purpose. For there are communities still starving for and still responsive to "shows" like "McFadden's Flats."

"The Fascinating Widow."

Thursday night at the Auditorium will mark the reappearance for a final visit of Julian Eltinge in "The Fascinating Widow." Eltinge's popularity with theatre patrons in this city is beyond question, judging by the large advance sale of seats. Mr. Eltinge's manager, A. H. Woods, had previously intended to start his star out this season with a new play and had all arrangements completed, but owing to urgent demands of the majority of the prominent managers throughout the country for another opportunity of having their patrons see Mr. Eltinge in his old role as the inimitable "widow," the present brief and last tour of "The Fascinating Widow" was arranged.

Every theatre-goer knows that its story is a very interesting and delightful one. Many amusing complications and a great deal of fun is derived from the masquerading and the play ends happily by Eltinge throwing off his disguise with a lightning change from the bride to the dashing youth in full dress, and wins the girl of his heart. The finish and perfection of Eltinge's art cannot be fully appreciated until he has been seen in the dual role of Hal Blake, a college boy, and Mrs. Monte, a charming widow who fascinates everybody with whom she comes in contact. Exquisitely groomed, beautiful of face and form, marvelous in his artistry of delicately executed impersonation, Julian Eltinge, masquerading as the "widow" presents a picture which grows more and more interesting with every inspection and to make the picture more alluring than ever, this fascinating young artist returns with a new wardrobe of gowns which are said will give us an advance glimpse of next season's creations. There will be many new songs and musical numbers throughout the play, in which Eltinge will be the central figure, of course, and in each of the new specialties he will wear his most stunning costumes, which have not been seen here before.

The same fine cast remains in Eltinge's support and includes Edward Garvie, James Spottsworth, Charles Butler, Hamilton Dean, Frank North, Marguerite Skervin, June Mathis, Lilian Spencer, Carrie Perkins, and the Eltinge beauty chorus of twelve handsome show girls.

Great American Minstrels.

Neil O'Brien and his "Great American Minstrels" will appear at the Auditorium Friday night. This is Mr. O'Brien's second season at the head of his own company, an organization which he promoted last year on broad gauge principles. Mr. O'Brien has felt encouraged this year to equip and organize a company which in size, class and merit, he feels sure will excel or compare with any organization of the kind that has ever been presented since the birth of minstrelsy. While several of the more prominent members of last year's company have been retained, the majority consists of new faces, while the scenery, paraphernalia and lighting effects are all brand new from the first part setting to the closing scene. The star has also written and staged two new feature acts, and a big and elaborate dancing number has been conceived and produced by Pete Detzel. Mr. O'Brien's act in the old time year is called "Parade Post," in which he appears in one of his grotesquely funny characters, an easy living, "no good" type of darkey which he has made familiar to all lovers of minstrelsy, a characterization recognized as a classic among stage types. In addition to this act, Mr. O'Brien has also written a comedy sketch called "Who's Boss? or Taming the Militant." In this act Eddie Mazier and little Major Nowak play the principal characters, the former appearing as the suffragette and the latter as her subduer and "tamer."

Among the comedians in the O'Brien company this year, in addition to the star, are Eddie Ross of international fame, Eddie Mazier, Pete Detzel, Major Nowak, George Faust and a dozen other lesser lights. The singing features of the show are said to be particularly noteworthy—there being no less than a dozen vocalists of the highest quality among them—Ward Bartin, the yodler; Al Pontaine, basso; Joe Carey, tenor; Arthur Blade, baritone; Walter Lindsey, tenor; Master George Hagen, contra-tenor. The orchestra of fourteen specially selected musicians is again under the direction of Frank Fuhrer.

At the Rex.
The coming week will be an exciting one for the Rex motion picture theatre. Commencing Monday they show the wonderful picture Jephtha's Daughter, a three-reel spectacular production, and then comes Beauty and Power, a dramatic story filled with thrills and excitement. Later in the week James J. Corbett appears in motion pictures in the "Man from the Golden West."
